REV. C. A. CHASTEEN SAYS SECRET SINS WILL FIND US OUT

Evangelist At Christian Church Draws Lesson From Disobedience of Achan—Says There Is Too Much Sin in Our Camps
Today and One of Greatest Is Religious Prejudice.

"Fear God and Keep His Commandments, for this is the Whole Duty of Man," is the text upon which the Rev. Chas. A. Chasteen, evangelist at the Central Christian Church, based his sermon on "The Secret Sin" which he delivered to a good audience last night. Mr. Chasteen wove his discourse about the story of the fall of Jericho and the small but significant sin of Achan, which caused the loss of thirty-six of Joshua's best men and the defeat of an army of three thousand.

"The trouble with man is, that he does almost as he is commanded to do and lets it go at that," he said. "So many people think that as long as they are good in the general sense of the word they are all right; and that no specific acts of goodness are necessary. That old saying of 'It is all right for us to do so and so, if our heart is right' is used as a dodge by the majority of people who quote it. If the heart is really right through having searched and studied the scriptures, and if we act according to the teachings of the Bible—then and only then can we say things we do are all right because our hearts are right."

No One Will Know.

Mr. Chasteen went minutely into the story of Achan, told how he disobeyed the commandment of God by salvaging for himself from the city of Jericho, a Babylonian mantle, a wedge of gold and two hundred shekels of silver, when the Lord had commanded that nothing be saved from destruction save a few exceptions which He, Himself, looked after. "What's the harm," the man said to himself. "No one will know."

"So many of us say that," Mr. Chasteen deplored. "Instead of asking what good there is in the thing in question. If we would ask 'How many souls has an act of this sort saved? How many persons has it lifted to a higher plane of living?' Instead of saying, 'What harm is there in it' we would be judging our acts by a loftier standard."

"God has placed all sin in the same category," the evangelist declared. "There are no little sins; there are no 'white' lies. Every lie and every other sin is as black as can be and there is nothing white about it."

Little Sin Brings Death.

"After Jericho had been taken by the Children of Israel under the leadership of Joshua," the speaker said, going on with his Biblical narrative, "they looked forward to the capture of the city of Ai. Spies were sent and came back reporting that it would be easily captured. But when the army of three thousand was sent out against the enemy it was defeated and thirty-six of the best men were slain. As a result Joshua and his confederates lay down in the dust and wept and bemoaned their fate. God then came to Joshua and told him that the breaking of one of his commands had brought about this defeat; and he ordered the leader to seek out the sin that was in the camp of Israel and get rid of it. Then came the humiliation of Achan; for when the dye was cast he was found to be guilty. It was his 'little' sin that had cost the lives of thirty-six, and that brought to him death and to his family disgrace."

No Reward Without Obedience.

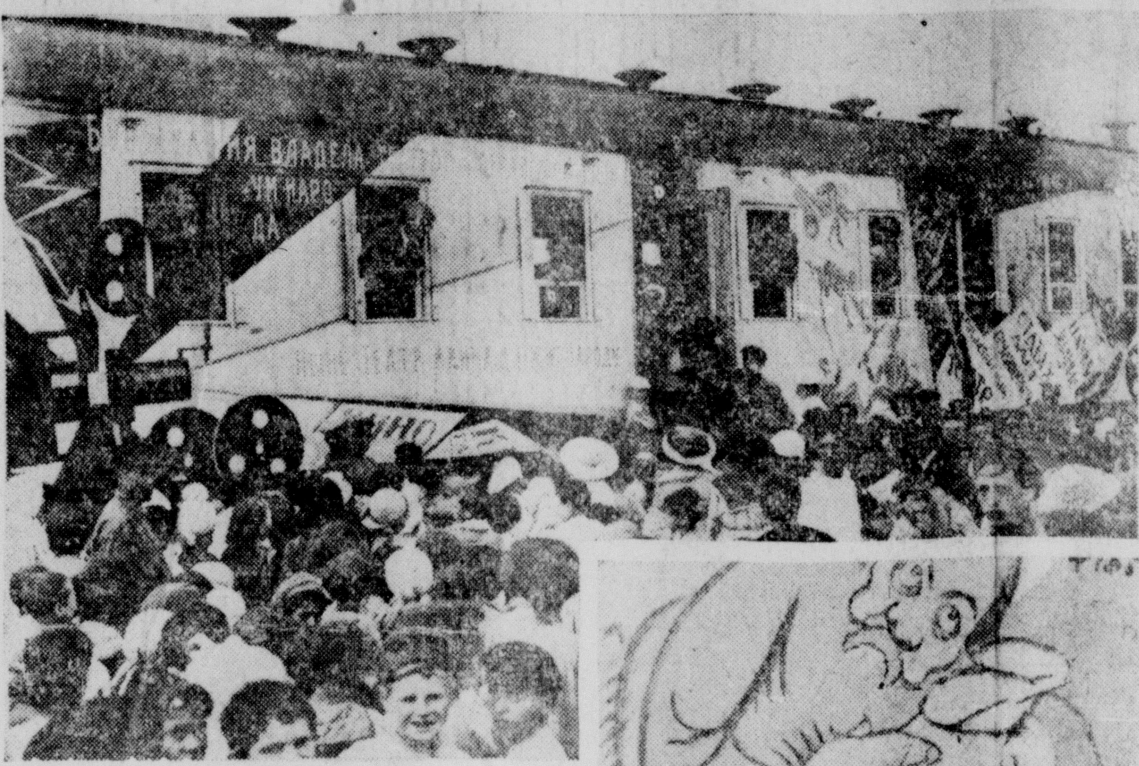

"God has made all His promises upon condition," the speaker reminded his hearers. "Upon condition that we study His laws and abide by them for. That man who obeyeth not gets not the reward."

Applying the lesson taught in the story of the fall of Jericho Mr. Chasteen said: "There is too much sin in our camp today. Do you know that fifty per cent of the people in the United States never enter the doors of any church, Catholic or Protestant? In a town of six thousand we call a church with three hundred members a good one. It is pitiable; it is deplorable."

He enumerated some of the outstanding sins as follows: Covetousness, religious indifference, coldness and laziness on the part of so-called Christians, jealousy and gossip.

"But the meanest sin in the camp of

RUSSIAN SOVIET GOVERNMENT USES MOVIES IN PROPAGANDA WORK

To bring the movies to the villages of Russia, the Soviet Government has cinema cars attached to its propaganda trains. Red literature is distributed to all who attend the free movies. On the right are two Russian youngsters laughing at a caricature of capitalism, painted on the side of one of the Soviet propaganda trains which tour the country for the distribution of their literature. Michael Kalenin, President of the Russian Soviet Republic, is shown on the left. Kalenin was a farmer and toolmaker before the revolution. He has long been associated with the radical movement in Russia.

RED CROSS NURSE COMPILES STATISTICS OF EIGHT MONTHS' WORK

The number of school children, their defects, and other information concerning the welfare work of the Wilbarger County Red Cross, has been compiled by Miss Rose Ellmann, nurse. The period covered dates from February 15, 1921, when Miss Ellmann came here, until the present date. It does not take into consideration one month during which the nurse was on a vacation.

The following is the report compiled by Miss Ellmann:

Number of school children examined: 2070; number of children found defective: 1,650. Defects were—vision: 302; teeth: 828; mouth breathers: 470; ten per cent or more underweight: 788. Attendance at clinics: 707; home school visits: 370; infant welfare visits: 263; nursing visits: 292; total number of visits made: 1,518; assistance in operations: 18; obstetrical cases: 196.

Christians is religious prejudice. Many persons maliciously call their neighbors 'sectarians' instead of the name they choose to be called. The religious world needs to get acquainted instead of building fences around their own denominations. The world says, 'If you have such a good thing why don't you get together and glorify God?'

One Sin Dooms.

"It was one single sin that drove Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden; it was one sin that kept Moses out of the Promised Land; and yet we think today that we can play with sin. Our Great Teacher said, 'Be ye perfect, even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.'"

"When we come down to it," the speaker said in closing, "what business have we got sinning? Our sins will find us out, just as Achan was discovered; and he was made to pay for it, but too late to save the lives of the others whose deaths he had caused. Jesus has stooped in and has taken for us the punishment of our past sins. He has suffered so that we may be saved; we can escape punishment for the sins we have committed if we but accept Jesus and lead a Christian life henceforth."

With this plea Mr. Chasteen closed his discourse. He announced that he would preach on "The Unpardonable Sin," tonight. He urged that the school children attend the services Saturday night, at which time if he does, he will preach on "The Indulgent Father."

A good interest is being shown in the revival and the audiences are receiving the sermons well. The meeting will continue over next week and thereafter as long as the interest and results justify, it was announced.

BOUNDARY SUIT TESTIMONY HERE OF AID TO TEXAS

Attorney-General Cureton Expressed Himself As "Well Pleased" With Nature Of Evidence Offered—Early History Of Valleys Covered Thoroughly—16 Witnesses Testify.

Sixteen witnesses were examined Wednesday in the district court room by the special commission representing Texas, Oklahoma, and the United States government taking testimony on the Red river boundary dispute. Quizzing of those subpoenaed commenced at 9 o'clock in the morning, and continued well until the close of day. Minute details concerning Wilbarger county land in the vicinity of the stream were brought out by the visiting lawyers, one of whom was Hon. C. M. Cureton, attorney-general of Texas. Another distinguished barrister with the visiting group was Hon. J. A. Fain, serving as special assistant to the attorney-general of the United States. Mr. Fain is a brother-in-law of Mrs. W. D. Berry and Les. K. Johnson of this city. His home is in Oklahoma City.

Others in the delegation were Hon. Frederick Tyler, special commissioner of the United States Supreme Court and a direct descendant of former President Tyler, George Short, assistant attorney-general of Oklahoma, H. S. Trailer, representing the Indian department at Washington, Assistant Attorney-General Hawkins of Texas, and Messrs. Whitley, Welch, Fagan, Hill and Joiner, stenographers.

To Austin Monday.

From Vernon the party proceeded Thursday morning to Quanah where they took testimony yesterday. Upon the completion of this, the party will return to Austin where expert testimony, expected to last ten days, will commence Monday. During the visit in Vernon testimony offered concerned historical matters, the age of the valleys, the number of settlers in each farm, and data concerning Red river. After the conclusion of testimony, the case will be briefed and taken to Washington. It is set for a hearing before the United States Supreme Court January 9, but the great mass of testimony to be prepared makes such a course problematical.

Those who testified Wednesday were the following: C. F. Doan, R. W. Walker, Mrs. Bertha Ross, M. Fowler, R. L. More, C. A. Allingham, W. A. Ish, Charles Justin, Dan Lorraine, W. T. Gibbons, W. D. McGee, A. J. Robinson, J. P. King, J. E. Lutz, T. J. Youngblood, and L. P. Kramer.

Testimony Here Satisfactory.

C. M. Cureton, Texas attorney-general, described the testimony here as "highly satisfactory." He stated to a representative of The Record that it brought out that there are well established farms in the Red river valley in this vicinity, and there are over 200 school children and forty-seven farms in the local district claimed by Oklahoma.

Mr. Cureton expressed the belief that the United States Supreme Court will never take land of this character away from Texas and give it to an adjoining State. The fact that Texas settlers have become so well established on the territory will be ample argument against breaking up their homes, he said. Mr. Cureton characterized the boundary suit as one of the greatest ever conducted in this country, and as one of the greatest in the history of the world. It involves thousands of acres and millions of dollars, he said, and the amount of evidence submitted is stupendous. A corps of trained stenographers was busy with the group all Wednesday taking testimony as it was offered. Short hand notes were immediately converted into typewritten sheets.

Controversy Begins In 1918.

In outlining the history of the case, Mr. Cureton mentioned that its inception was in 1918 on the occasion of striking the first oil well at Burkburnett. For awhile, he stated, almost open warfare existed between residents of Texas and Oklahoma, and it was necessary to send rangers to the scene before order could be restored.

Oklahoma entered suit for the land in the fall of 1919, claiming land to the south bluffs of the Red river. This embraced valuable oil lands in Texas, and in Wilbarger county alone covers

THE ESTABLISHED WORLD RECORD FOR ALTITUDE

Captain John A. MacReady, chief of the Flying Section, U. S. Air Service, at McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, who reached an altitude of 40,000 feet with a Le Pere biplane equipped with a General Electric Supercharger or oxygen booster. This is the highest altitude that man has ever reached. The Le Pere plane had been used exclusively for altitude tests since 1919. In February, 1920, Major Schroeder reached 38,800 feet in the same plane, then lost consciousness, and fell five miles in two minutes, but regained his senses and made a safe landing. The supercharger feeds air to the engines at about 20,000 feet of the same density as at sea level, solving one of the chief obstacles against reaching high altitudes by aviators.

more than 25,000 acres, including six valleys.

Gives Striking Testimony.

Some of the most interesting testimony offered Wednesday was by C. F. Doan of the community which bears his name. Captain Doan gave the early history of his settlement when the Doan trading post existed, and stated that persons came as far as seventy-five miles to his postoffice to receive their mail. He described life among the cowboys and Indians, and the character of the country at that time.

One of the most interesting bits of his testimony dealt with his meeting with Lord Balfour of England, when the latter came to this country to look after ranching interests. He told of the nobleman doffing his matty English clothes for cowboy garb and making good on the ranch.

Mrs. Bertha Ross, daughter of Captain Doan, told of her childhood in the Doan section. Mrs. Ross was the first white child in Wilbarger county. She described the character of the terrain in the neighborhood of Doan, and offered further testimony of this nature.

Bands Testimony As Lie.

M. Fowler, who is reputed to have brought in the famous Fowler well at Burkburnett, created a mild sensation in court when he described testimony offered in Oklahoma and read to him from the records as "a damned lie." The testimony was reputed to come from an acquaintance of Fowler's who related incidents supposed to have occurred when the two men were traveling together.

Fowler was asked by Attorney-General Cureton whether or not the wind blew sand from the Texas side of the river to the Oklahoma side. When he replied in the affirmative, he was asked if he did not consider that enough Texas soil found its way thus to the northerly neighbor without that state claiming additional land.

Photos Examined.

L. P. Kramer testified concerning photographs he made in August of this year for the attorney-general's office. Details in the pictures were pointed out and elaborated upon.

C. A. Allingham testified concerning the nature of the Red river and his experience since living in its neighborhood. He was asked especially concerning whether or not the river continually changed its course, and answered in the negative.

Testimony of other witnesses all hinged on the nature of the Red river valleys in this county, and bore along the same lines. John A. Storey, county attorney, was made representative of the State for this county in the boundary dispute on the suggestion of Attorney-General Cureton.

Monday—"What's a Wife Worth?"
The story begins with the marriage of a wealthy man and a village belle. From the outset the marriage is unhappy because of the interference of parasites and social climbers. A divorce is granted and the wife takes refuge with a child to care for. The man marries again—this time a girl whose mother can see only dollar marks on the horizon. Affection between the two is a minor consideration in the match, and the husband and wife soon agree to disagree. A child is born and dies; and this does not satisfy another, thinking it may bring the man and woman together. The mother thinks more of card parties than she does of the baby, however, and the father discovers that the substituted baby is the child of his first wife. A reconciliation with the latter follows.

PROBE OF EVERY SECRET

ORDER ASKED IN HOUSE
A Congressional investigation of every secret organization in the United States is asked in a resolution introduced in the House by Representative William Upshaw, Democrat of Atlanta, Ga. The resolution provides for summoning of the chief officials of such organization before a special joint conference committee. Under the resolution every state would be called upon by congress to furnish the name of every secret organization, chartered or unchartered, which may be operating within its borders. The resolution set forth that as "only one of these secret organizations," the Ku Klux Klan, has been singled out for a Congressional investigation, all of them should be called "to give an account of their aims and purposes," the funds collected and expended by them, and also to disclose their oaths and rituals.

ROBERT HOUSSSELS BETTER

Message From L. G. Hawkins At Long Beach, California, Says Condition Is Critical.

Although critically ill, Robert Houssels shows some improvement, according to a telegram received by W. H. Huggins this morning from L. G. Hawkins at Long Beach. Mr. Hawkins reached Long Beach yesterday in response to summons by the bedside of Mrs. Hawkins' father.

"Mr. Houssels recognized us and was glad we had come," the telegram from Mr. Hawkins said. "Although his condition is critical, I do not apprehend any immediate danger."

Mr. Houssels is 87 years old. His physician says the wonderful tenacity with which he holds onto life is a result of constitutional vigor seldom equaled. He is president of the Waggoner National Bank of Vernon.

J. M. Underwood returned this morning from San Antonio, where he attended a national convention of undertakers. Representative from thirty-eight states were present. Mr. Underwood says he visited numbers of undertaking establishments while away, but found none that appeared as modern and well arranged as his own here.

LOOKS AS THOUGH DIOGENES WOULD NEED A SEARCHLIGHT INSTEAD OF A LANTERN.

Annals with all his attributes lived too soon! The witty old prevaricator should have lived in an age when, with bag and ball and club, he could stroll over the billowing greenward shouting "Fore" at the proper intervals. To be a liar, and an accomplished one at that, in a time when there was nothing particular to lie about, is merely wasting talent. Nothing in the history of the world, from the day when Adam donned his first fig leaf until the present, has given such an opportunity and wide field of endeavor to the liars of the universe as the entrancing game of golf.

According to devotees of the sport at Hill Crest, cooler weather is developing a host of "forgetters" that the burning rays of summer failed to lure from shady retreats. Even those who have looked with disdain the past season on the perspiring, futile efforts of white hatted figures to knock out of sight a tiny pellet of white, have swallowed their prejudice and decided to try it for themselves.

Have Lax Memories.

And somehow, it is whispered about cautiously among those who have been at the game all summer, the newcomers are amazingly lax in the matter of keeping careful tab on their scores. There have been pars and bogies by the score from players who paid their first dollar for golf balls when old timers have never been successful in negotiating the required distance without many extra strokes and words that are not generally employed in the general run of daily affairs.

The worst feature of the epidemic appears in its contagious nature. It has spread rapidly among the novices and, alas, it has even tainted the ranks of the veterans. "Let me see," says the old timer as he begins to count up the strokes required to travel from the last hole. "It was—" but ere he can get the words out of his mouth every player in the group, who has been keeping every other fellow's score on the back of his card, thunders out the numerals.

CHEWING GUM CAUSES DEATH

Davidson Boy Swallows Quantity Of Dainty and As Result Loses Life.

Leslie McCollough, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCollough, of Davidson, Okla., died here at midnight Wednesday following an operation for appendicitis. Death, however, is said not to have ensued as a result of the operation as the boy was apparently on the way to recovery and out of bed when taken critically ill.

His mother and sister are said to have come to the hospital to visit the boy and brought him a quantity of chewing gum. In order to avoid detection on the part of the nurses, the lad swallowed the gum at intervals, and in his weakened condition complications set in that resulted in his death.

The body was sent to Davidson Thursday. The boy's father is a prominent farmer in that locality.

DISCOVERS FADED CLIPPING IN OLD PIECE OF FURNITURE

A. F. Hope, while making over a piece of furniture belonging to Mrs. J. E. Prince of this city, discovered this week a torn clipping from a newspaper put into one of the drawers years ago. Faded and yellow, the clipping is dated Jonesboro, Tenn., Sept. 21, 1847. An account on the clipping is a fragment from an article dealing with a church controversy. Following is the part which can be deciphered:

"...over the whole ground of the controversy between our church and theirs Mr. — gives out that he has matter for twelve months' against Methodism. The undersigned has matter for a twelve years' contest, and promises some disclosures in his monthly. Those editors of religious and political—who will insert this prospectus two times, and send us their papers containing the same, shall have this work for one year. W. G. Brownlow, editor and publisher."

GROWS SWEET POTATOES FROM DISCARDED PEELINGS

W. J. Barnes has apparently solved the problem of "eating his cake and having it too." Last spring Mr. Barnes bought some sweet potatoes. They were peeled and eaten, the parings being thrown into the garbage can.

As the result of a happy thought, the peelings were removed from the garbage and put into a hot bed. Slips were planted, and Mr. Barnes estimates that he will dig twenty bushels of potatoes from this beginning.

ROCHESTER WOMAN TELLS EXPERIENCE

"I suffered for ten years from nervous indigestion. I had no appetite and always felt miserable. I was in such serious condition I thought my time for this world was getting short. My food didn't seem to nourish me at all and I only weighed 85 pounds."

"After taking Tanlac, I now weigh 108 pounds and am gaining every day. Oh! there is such a wonderful change now. Tanlac relieved my troubles so quickly it surprised me. My appetite is splendid. I have plenty of strength and feel better than I have in years. I wouldn't take one thousand dollars for what Tanlac has done for me."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Clara Lehman, Bristol Hotel, Rochester, N. Y.

Great Western Heatwell

The Rapid-fire Hot-draft

THE HEATWELL is a double-tube hot-draft stove of exceptional heating properties. It gets most out of the coal—produces heat in greater volume than its size and fuel consumption would indicate.

In the HEATWELL, there are two hot-draft tubes—one on each side—to admit the air. There is no obstruction at all to the coal put in through the feed-opening.

When the fire has been started, and the tubes are opened, there is tremendous combustion at the top of the fire-pot, which is large, while the grate-surface is comparatively small.

The fire-pot of the heatwell is exposed—not enclosed. This construction, in conjunction with the center-ring, deflects the heat to the floor, giving unusually warm floors.

There is a cast section above the fire-pot; hence, the hot coals never come into contact with the Oak steel body. There's an opening in this section, so that a poker may be inserted to break up the coal if necessary. This saves lifting the feed-cover.

There's a cast base to the HEATWELL enclosing an ash-pan. This is provided with a screw-valve to be opened for the draft or thrown back when the grate is to be shaken.

Asbestos rope packing is inserted between the joints, between the bottom, ash-pit, fire-pot and center section. The joint between the sheet steel drum and the section above the fire-pot is protected by a heavy cast ring.

The cover of the HEATWELL swings aside and gives a surface for a large vessel, without in any way interfering with the draft registers.

The HEATWELL is a stove that delivers service no matter how cold the weather.

WHY NOT THE HIGHWAY?

"If you will pave the highway, we are for the bond issue." This statement has been made by many good citizens of Wilbarger county in regard to the present proposed bond issue of $300,000 for road building.

Undoubtedly a paved highway from Chillicothe to a connection with the Wichita paved highway near Electra would be delightful to contemplate. It would please many in Vernon, just as it would delight residents of Harrold
 and other communities.

But would it be fair to vote a bond issue for the county and spend all the money on a single road extending from one end of the county to the other?
 This is especially true since—as Judge
 McHugh tells us—funds for keeping up roads in the county have already been exhausted, and if all this money were spent on the highway, other communities would have to go without.

It seems much more equitable that the main roads in four directions should be permanently improved. These are thoroughfares that accommodate by far the greater part of travel on the part of the men who will pay taxes, and they are a beginning of what may be extended into a complete system of roads for Wilbarger county.

Furthermore, the building of permanent bridges and culverts in various parts of the county is little less important than the paving it is proposed to do. That is why $50,000 is to be set aside by the commissioners for work in each of the four precincts.

GOSS POINTED THE WAY.

According to the statisticians the United States has 36,617,584 cotton
 spindles. In the Southern States
 North Carolina has 5,228,266; South
 Carolina has 5,013,538; Alabama, 1-283,096; Georgia, 2,684,325; Tennessee, 415,593. Massachusetts leads with 11,810,563. North Carolina ranks second in number of spinners and South Carolina third. What of Texas the banner cotton producing state and the banner buying state, speaking of cotton goods. Well, George Robinson tells it in his intimitable way. He says that there are not enough spindles to be enumerated "save with other states." He says not a pound of cotton is grown in Massachusetts and yet the Bay state leads all the rest. He says the two Carolinas in combination are close contestants of Massachusetts and what is more to the point the Carolinas spin
 more cotton than they grow. Hon. D.
 F. Goss of Baylor County points the way; when Texas mills and factories
 consume Texas cotton and wool, Texas
 will be the richest and the greatest of all American states.—The Record News

NEW PAVED HIGHWAYS

WOULD CROSS CONTINENT

That American cities are making tremendous strides in street paving is indicated in reports from city engineers
 to the Asphalt Association, New York, which show that sixty million square
 yards, or 3,488 miles of Asphaltic pav-ment, thirty feet wide, will be laid on city streets this year. This will be an increase of 25 per cent over the yardage in 1920 and is sufficient to build an asphalt road thirty feet wide from Augusta, Me., to San Francisco, Cal.

Saginaw, Mich., broke the record
 this year with an increase of 600 per cent over its yardage for last year.
 Akron, O., increased its yardage 500 per cent and Rochester, N. Y., 300 per cent. Other gains were as follows:
 Chicago, Ill., 60 per cent; Des Moines
 La., 100 per cent; Boston, Mass., 50 per cent; Norfolk, Va., 100 per cent; Detroit, Mich., 50 per cent; Portland, Ore.,
 20 per cent; Roanoke, Va., 60 per cent;
 San Antonio, Tex., 14 per cent.

The five boroughs of New York City
 laid a total of 1,991,783 square yards,
 as follows: Bronx, 418,700 square
 yards; Brooklyn, 548,000 square yards;

Queens, 357,843 square yards; Richmond, 118,300 square yards, and Manhattan, 503,649 square yards. The increase in each borough over the yardage for last year were as follows:
 Bronx, 90 per cent; Brooklyn, 10 per cent; Queens, 55 per cent; Richmond, 100 per cent, and Manhattan 20 per cent.

The asphalt paving laid this year in other leading cities of the country includes: Columbus, O., with 93,500
 square yards; Springfield, Mass., 180,
 250 square yards; Boston, Mass., 456,
 921 square yards; New Orleans, La.,
 155,983 square yards; San Diego, 142,
 068 square yards; Denver, Colo., 151,
 000 square yards; Washington, D. C.,
 250,297 square yards; San Antonio, Texas, 226,000 square yards; Indianapolis, 406,000 square yards; Rochester,
 N. Y., 323,547 square yards; Norfolk,
 Va., 158,635 square yards; Fort Worth,
 Tex., 172,217 square yards; Detroit,
 Mich., 1,295,000 square yards; Baltimore, Md., 660,665 square yards; Portland, Ore., 312,336 square yards; Providence, R. I., 271,892 square yards; Oklahoma City, Okla., 158,000 square
 yards; Akron, O., 125,000 square yards;
 Jersey City, N. J., 108,180 square yards;
 Flint, Mich., 129,500 square yards;
 New Bedford, Mass., 176,431 square
 yards; Jacksonville, Fla., 75,416 square yards; Roanoke, Va., 87,110 square yards; St. Paul, Minn., 138,000 square yards; Newark, N. J., 104,800 square yards; Kansas City, Mo., 84,915 square
 yards; Cincinnati, O., 165,000 square
 yards; San Francisco, Cal., 186,648
 square yards; Chicago, Ill., 1,613,800
 square yards; Des Moines, Ia., 135,903
 square yards; St. Louis, Mo., 186,509
 square yards; Birmingham, Ala., 270,
 000 square yards; Saginaw, Mich., 120,
 000 square yards; and Colorado Springs, Colo., 88,340 square yards. The last named city expects to lay 165,000
 square yards of asphalt paving in 1922.

The Dark Continent

In making a study of the Dark Continent, one finds that there are really three Africas, so far as the problems
 of that land are concerned. Christian Africa lies at the southern end of the continent, and here live almost five
 and one half million people. Pagan Africa is the greatest solid mass of paganism on earth. Mohammedan Africa, teeming with forty million souls,
 spreads over that vast area from the Equator to the Mediterranean Sea.
 This is the educational frontier of the world. It is estimated that there are one hundred million without a written language.

That Ounce of Preventative

Each year there are many business failures that could have been prevented by applying just a bit of preventative in the form of consultation with the banker.
 Many good concerns have been put out of business by unjust lawsuits; by the lack of proper business counsel
 at the right time and by that panic producer—FEAR.

If you are getting in deep water do not hesitate to talk freely to your banker. Nine times out of ten you will be saved a great deal of trouble and embarrassment,
 and at the same time you will gain the added respect
 of your banker by your action at not taking chances.

The officers of this bank have had many years experience in varied lines and the sum total of this is available at any time regardless of whether you are a customer of this bank or not.

ASK LOCAL AID FOR UNEMPLOYED

BUSINESS MEN URGED TO BACK PLAN PROPOSED BY NATION- AL CONFERENCE.

Support for the program advanced by the National Conference on Unemployment looking to relief of idle workers was asked of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce in a communication from Joseph H. Defrees, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and a member of the Conference.

Mr. Defrees especially urged that local business men get behind the plan proposed by the Conference for the mayors to organize local Emergency Committees in their communities. He asked them to offer the mayors immediate assistance in order that the machinery of organization shall be speeded up on a national basis. Every town, said Mr. Defrees, has a responsibility to the nation to organize to meet this question immediately and the nation can only bring its help to bear when the cities and the states are organized so as to make their help effective.

Business Has Responsibility.

"Business," said Mr. Defrees, "has a very great responsibility in the situation. It furnishes employment. Business men in the communities should take the lead in co-operating with the mayors in creation of the emergency committees and in working out constructive community programs for relieving unemployment in their vicinities."

The situation cannot be met without proper organization. It is primarily a community problem. The local business man, through his business organization and individually, should make every effort to meet the situation in his city. The existing unemployment presents a real problem which must have immediate attention."

Road Project Would Aid.

The proposed road bond issue for Wilbarger county would furnish one effective means of meeting this proposition, according to a representative of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce. Such a project, it is argued, would furnish employment for a considerable number of men, and help materially to circulate more money in the community. This plan has found favor from many county citizens.

OMISSION OF DASH CREDITS CHURCH WITH DANCE

By the way! It is not amiss at this time to explain that no spirit of facetiousness, revenge, or just common "orneryness" prompted a Record make-up man to omit a dash between the article in the last issue giving an account of the revival meeting at the Christian church, and one relating the details of a dance at Hill Crest Country Club. With only a subhead between, one story finished with the statement that the visiting minister had preached on "The Sermon on the Mount," and in the next breath there was the assertion that Hill Crest members enjoyed a dance Saturday night.

The hands of The Record clock have a habit of hurrying toward 5 p. m. on press days, and as a consequence there is a bit of flurry connected with making up the paper and running it off the press before that hour arrives. Hence, any omissions of the above nature can be reckoned as mistakes of the head and not the heart.

Entertain Entre Nous Club.

Misses Bob and Don Standifer entertained the Entre Nous Bridge Club at their home on Main Street Wednesday afternoon. After the games a three-course luncheon was attractively served the guests. Swartwood, Mrs. Chandler Caraway, Miss Vera Harrington and Miss Annah Joe Pendleton. Miss Parker won the club prize and Mrs. Swartwood the guest prize.

Arrangements were made with the Pyramid operators nearby to pump water the necessary two miles with a steam pump. Earlier a gasoline machine was used but failed to serve the purpose.

FISHERMEN RESCUED AFTER LINER PASSED THEM BY

Captain Albert B. Randall, commander of the United States liner Hudson, has been suspended from duty as the result of his failing to aid three Brooklyn, N. Y. fishermen who were adrift seven miles out on the Atlantic in a disabled motorboat. The men had been drifting seaward more than twelve hours, when the Hudson came up on seeing their signals for assistance. The Hudson, however, failed to stop, sending out a radio telling of the fishermen's plight. More than seven hours after the Hudson had passed them by the three were rescued by the coast liner Nantuxet, bound from Boston to Philadelphia. Captain's Randall's defense was that an other steamer was nearer the men and that he had ordered his wireless operator to notify the freighter to go to the assistance of the men and to explain that he had mails aboard and was proceeding. The photo shows the rescued men, who testified at the hearing. Left to right: Albert R. Tuveri, Edward D. Young and William T. Tuveri.

"FOUR HORSEMEN" COMING

Pictures Made From Danes's Great War Story Will Be Shown At Local Theatre Tuesday.

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" by Vicente Blasco Ibañez, said by some to be the supreme expression of the Great War, has been put into pictures at a cost of a million dollars. The photoplay will be shown in Vernon for the first time on Tuesday, October 18, at Moore's Theatre. The book now in its one hundred and sixty-sixth edition, has been read throughout the world. It was transferred to the screen by June Mathis and the making of the picture was directed by Rex Ingram.

Readers of the novel will recall that the story opens on the Argentine ranch of old Madariaga, who rules his territories with feudal power. A rioting neighboring despot, he is filled with Castilian pride of family and rears for a male child to carry on his tradition. His two daughters have married ranch employees—the one a German and the other a French. He has an antipathy for his half-German grand-children, but is filled with great pride when a son is born to the Frenchman, Desnoyers. The boy, Julio, is selected heir to the great estate and is brought up as a prince of the realm.

Later the war comes and the cousins are of course on opposite sides of the conflict. Julio finally meets death at the hands of his kinsman when the two face each other in a trench raid. Through all the story gallop the "Four Horsemen" spoken of by St. John in the Book of the Apocalypse, the grim figures of Conquest, War, Famine and Death.

MORE UNIFORM DISTRIBUTION NEEDED IN MARKETING HOGS

A large majority of southern hogs are marketed during the winter months. During that period prices are generally lowest, largely because of the heavy receipts at all markets. A study of receipts and prices at the leading live-stock markets shows that the average price for live hogs reaches its highest levels during March, April, August, and September, and that the receipts during these months are usually lightest, says the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture.

An advantage in price, therefore, may usually be gained by marketing hogs during these months. Although it is not always practicable for the farmer to change his production methods to take advantage of this fact, there are many farmers, particularly those in the South, who are easily accessible to packing centers who could well afford to arrange to have their hogs in marketable condition during the month when prices are usually most favorable.

A more uniform distribution of supplies of hogs at southern markets throughout the year would undoubtedly benefit many farmers and at the same time greatly assist in the development of the packing industry in the South.

WANT UNION OF WELFARE EFFORTS

COMMITTEE SUGGESTS PLAN TO ELIMINATE DUPLICATION OF WORK

A specific recommendation in writing was compiled Wednesday morning by a committee from the various welfare organizations in the county in the interest of forming a consolidation of agencies here for the purpose of eliminating duplicate work in ministering to the needy. An earlier meeting, held last week, considered the plan for such a union, but nothing definite was done toward its formation. The plan outlined below is formulated to present the proposition concisely not merely to the public but to the various welfare organizations in the county.

To the Public:
"Charity work now being done in this county results in duplication of effort. The various organizations are often ignorant of what each other is doing. The result is that imposters and dead beats are getting too much help and the worthy are often left to suffer. Another result is that we have too many drives.

"In view of these facts, the following remedy for the situation is suggested:

Want Single Body.

"Organize a county wide body to be known as the Wilbarger Welfare Association. Each voting district will have a member of the advisory council. The duties of these councilmen will be to report to the secretary any case needing attention and in advising how to help that case. The association will have a board of directors, composed of one representative from each of the following: County Commissioners' court; United Charities; Red Cross; Medical Association; Pastors' Association; Chamber of Commerce; Retail Merchants Association; Good Fellows; American Legion; Rotary Club; Lions Club; and Salvation Army. This board will elect an executive committee of three. The executive committee will employ a public health nurse and a secretary of the association and shall supervise the disbursement of the funds of the association.

A careful estimate of the amounts raised in this county by all the various agencies for charitable work during the past twelve months shows that a total of about $10,000 was secured. With a consolidation of agencies, duplication of efforts will be done away with, the imposters will be put an end to, the needy will be taken care of, and the public health nurse can be kept affiliated with the Red Cross. The estimated cost of this plan is $6,000 a year.

Haulk Hill

Haulk Hill, Oct. 12.—(By special correspondence.)—Cotton in this community is being gathered fast. If it stays dry there would be much to gather in November.

J. E. Dockery the principal of Haulk Hill school is moving to his new home this week at Haulk Hill. His wife will teach the primary room of that school. Miss Marx Priddy will have charge of the intermediate room.

Mrs. A. E. Morgan of Vernon is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Turner of Odell.

The singing at Mrs. Ida Turner's Sunday night was well attended by a large crowd of young folks and several old people. Every body seemed to enjoy the singing.

S. B. Sherrill has 11 acres of cotton that he has picked 7 bales off of and he says he believes he will get 4 or 5 more. That is extra good for this year. Corbitt Musser and Cecil Smith from Whitewright, Texas are picking cotton for J. O. Morgan. Mr. Musser is a cousin of Mr. Morgan.

T. H. Green and family went to the singing Sunday night at Mrs. Ida Turner's.

J. O. Morgan, Cecil Smith and Corbitt Musser were at the singing Sunday night at Mrs. Morgan's.

Miss Rose Morgan spent Tuesday night with Murrill, Olive.

John Knapp and family were shopping in Vernon Saturday.

Marvin Morgan made a business trip to Okmulgee Monday.

M. P. Barnfield's little girl is very sick with tonsillitis. Mrs. T. H. Green and Mrs. A. E. Morgan sat up there Tuesday night.

J. A. Hodges left yesterday to attend the Dallas Fair.

Mrs. Robert O. Brown left Wednesday for Dallas where she will attend the State Fair. Her sister, Mrs. Quince L. Turner.

EIGHTY YEARS OF AGE, RIDES BICYCLE DAILY

George T. Anschütz

Regardless of the fact that he is nearly eighty years a resident on this old terra firma, George T. Anschütz, of Washington Court House, Ohio, is still an enthusiastic bicycle rider and issues a challenge to race any man of his age in America, barring none. He was born in Baltimore, Md., and recalls seeing troops on their way to the Mexican war. He is as fit as a fiddle, uses his bicycle every day and has been using the same wheel for twenty years. "I haven't an ache, pain, debt or anxiety," is the way Anschütz expresses his wonderful vitality and personality.

Gay R. Jones left Tuesday for Dallas to attend the Fair.

CITY MARSHAL NOT APPOINTED

Commissioners Unable Tuesday To Agree On Head of Local Police Force.

City Commissioners were unable to agree on a choice of city marshal at their meeting Tuesday afternoon, and as a consequence, W. W. Gilbert will continue serving in that capacity until the vacancy is filled. R. H. Bratton, former city marshal, resigned over a week ago.

Ballots taken by the city fathers resulted first two to two vote consistently. After discussing the proposition further, additional ballots would be taken with the usual two favoring Gilbert and two against.

J. H. Hartsfield was appointed to serve as night policeman.

Accommodation---and What It Means

"ACCOMMODATION" is an empty phrase until put into actual practice. A bank's many facilities are as naught until actually made use of.

THAT IS WHY we offer to the growing business man a banking service that will help him grow still bigger. It may be in our checking department, or in all departments. But, no matter where, the hearty, complete accommodation of this bank is yours always.

WE BELIEVE in a bank offering accommodation, rather than waiting to be asked for it. That is why so many young business men, and older concerns too, rightly regard this as THEIR bank.

Ask us to explain why this is YOUR Logical Bank.

REV. C. A. CHASTEEN SAYS SECRET SINS WILL FIND US OUT

Evangelist At Christian Church Draws Lesson From Disobedience of Achan—Says There Is Too Much Sin in Our Camps Today and One of Greatest Is Religious Prejudice.

"Fear God and Keep His Commandments, for this is the Whole Duty of Man," is the text upon which the Rev. Chas. A. Chasteen, evangelist at the Central Christian Church, based his sermon on "The Secret Sin" which he delivered to a good audience last night. Mr. Chasteen wove his discourse about the story of the fall of Jericho and the small but significant sin of Achan, which caused the loss of thirty-six of Joshua's best men and the defeat of an army of three thousand.

"The trouble with man is, that he does almost as he is commanded to do and lets it go at that," he said. "So many people think that as long as they are good in the general sense of the word they are all right; and that no specific acts of goodness are necessary. That old saying of 'It is all right for us to do so and so, if our heart is right' is used as a dodge by the majority of people who quote it. If the heart is really right through having searched and studied the scriptures, and if we act according to the teachings of the Bible—then and only then can we say things we do are all right because our hearts are right."

No One Will Know.

Mr. Chasteen went minutely into the story of Achan, told how he disobeyed the commandment of God by salvaging for himself from the city of Jericho, a Babylonian mantle, a wedge of gold and two hundred shekels of silver, when the Lord has commanded that nothing be saved from destruction save a few exceptions which He, Himself, looked after. "What's the harm," the man said to himself. "No one will know."

"So many of us say that," Mr. Chasteen deplored. "Instead of asking what good there is in the thing in question. If we would ask 'How many souls has an act of this sort saved? How many persons has it lifted to a higher plane of living?' Instead of saying, 'What harm is there in it? we would be judging our acts by a better standard."

"God has placed all sin in the same category," the evangelist declared. "There are no little sins; there are no 'white' lies. Every lie and every other sin is as black as can be and there is nothing white about it."

Little Sin Brings Death.

"After Jericho had been taken by the Children of Israel under the leadership of Joshua," the speaker said, going on with his Biblical narrative, "they looked forward to the capture of the city of Ai. Spies were sent and came back reporting that it would be easily captured. But when the army of three thousand was sent out against the enemy it was defeated and thirty-six of the best men were slain. As a result Joshua and his confederates lay down in the dust and wept and bewailed their fate. God then came to Joshua and told him that the breaking of one of his commands had brought about this defeat; and he ordered the leader to seek out the sin that was in the camp of Israel and get rid of it. Then came the humiliation of Achan; for when the dye was cast he was found to be guilty. It was his 'little' sin that had cost the lives of thirty-six, and that brought to him death and to his family disgrace."

No Reward Without Obedience.

"God has made all His promises upon condition," the speaker reminded his hearers. "Upon condition that we study His laws and abide by them. 'That man who obeys not gets not the reward.'"

Applying the lesson taught in the story of the fall of Jericho Mr. Chasteen said: "There is too much sin in our camp today. Do you know that fifty per cent of the people in the United States never enter the doors of any church, Catholic or Protestant? In a town of six thousand we call a church with three hundred members a good one. It is pitiable; it is deplorable."

He enumerated some of the outstanding sins as follows: Covetousness, religious indifference, coldness and laziness on the part of so-called Christians, jealousy and gossip.

"But the meanest sin in the camp of

RUSSIAN SOVIET GOVERNMENT USES MOVIES IN PROPAGANDA WORK

He has long been associated with the radical movement in Russia.

MORE THAN 2,000 CHILDREN EXAMINED

RED CROSS NURSE COMPILES STATISTICS OF EIGHT MONTHS' WORK

The number of school children, their defects, and other information concerning the welfare work of the Wilbarger County Red Cross, has been compiled by Miss Rosa Ellmann, nurse, during the past eight months. The period covered dates from February 15, 1921, when Miss Ellmann came here, until the present date. It does not take into consideration one month during which the nurse was on a vacation.

The following is the report compiled by Miss Ellmann:

Number of school children examined: 2,070; number of children found defective: 1,650. Defects were—vision 302; teeth 828; mouth breathers 470; ten per cent or more underweight, 788. Attendance at clinics 707; home school visits 370; infant welfare visits 203; nursing visits 292; total number of visits made 1,518; assistance in operations 18; obstetrical cases 106.

Christians is religious prejudice. Many persons maliciously call their neighbors 'sectarians' instead of the name they choose to be called. The religious world needs to get acquainted instead of building fences around their own denominations. The world says, 'If you have such a good thing why don't you get together and glorify God?'

One Sin Dooms.

"It was one single sin that drove Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden; it was one sin that kept Moses out of the Promised Land; and yet we think today that we can play with sin. Our Great Teacher said, 'Be ye perfect, even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.'"

"When we come down to it," the speaker said in closing, "what business have we got sinning? Our sins will find us out, just as Achan was discovered; and he was made to pay for it, but too late to save the lives of the others whose deaths he had caused. Jesus has stepped in and has taken for us the punishment of our past sins. He has suffered so that we may be saved; we can escape punishment for the sins we have committed if we but accept Jesus and lead a Christian life henceforth."

With this plea Mr. Chasteen closed his discourse. He announced that he would preach on "The Unpardonable Sin" tonight. He urged that the school children attend the services Saturday night, at which time if they do, he will preach on "The Indulgent Father."

A good interest is being shown in the revival and the audiences are receiving the sermons well. The meeting will continue over next week and thereafter as long as the interest and results justify, it was announced.

BOUNDARY SUIT TESTIMONY HERE OF AID TO TEXAS

Attorney-General Cureton Expressed Himself As "Well Pleased" With Nature Of Evidence Offered—Early History of Valleys Covered Thoroughly—16 Witnesses Testify.

Sixteen witnesses were examined Wednesday in the district court room by the special commission representing Texas, Oklahoma, and the United States government taking testimony on the Red river boundary dispute. Quizzing of those subpoenaed commenced at 9 o'clock in the morning, and continued well until the close of day. Minute details concerning Wilbarger county land in the vicinity of the stream were brought out by the visiting lawyers, one of whom was Hon. C. M. Cureton, attorney-general of Texas. Another distinguished barrister with the visiting group was Hon. J. A. Fain, serving as special assistant to the attorney-general of the United States. Mr. Fain is a brother-in-law of Mrs. W. D. Berry and Les. K. Johnson of this city. His home is in Oklahoma City.

Others in the delegation were Hon. Frederick Tyler, special commissioner of the United States Supreme Court and a direct descendant of former President Tyler, George Short, assistant attorney-general of Oklahoma, H. S. Trailer, representing the Indian department at Washington, Assistant Attorney-General Hawkins of Texas, and Messrs. Whitley, Welch, Fagan, Hill and Joiner, stenographers.

To Austin Monday.

From Vernon the party proceeded Thursday morning to Quanah where they took testimony yesterday. Upon the completion of this, the party will return to Austin where expert testimony, expected to last ten days, will commence Monday. During the visit in Vernon testimony offered concerned historical matters, the age of the valleys, the number of settlers in each farm, and data concerning Red river. After the conclusion of testimony, the case will be briefed and taken to Washington. It is set for a hearing before the United States Supreme Court January 9, but the great mass of testimony to be prepared makes such a course problematical.

Those who testified Wednesday were the following: C. E. Doan, R. W. Walker, Mrs. Bertha Ross, M. Fowler, R. L. More, C. A. Allingham, W. A. Ish, Charles Justin, Dad Loran, W. T. Gibbons, W. D. McElroy, A. J. Robinson, J. P. King, J. E. Lutz, T. J. Youngblood, and L. P. Kramer.

Testimony Here Satisfactory.

C. M. Cureton, Texas attorney-general, described the testimony here as "highly satisfactory." He stated to a representative of The Record that it brought out that there are well established farms in the Red river valley in this vicinity, and there are over 200 school children and forty-seven farms in the local district claimed by Oklahoma.

Mr. Cureton expressed the belief that the United States Supreme Court will never take land of this character away from Texas and give it to an adjoining State. The fact that Texas settlers have become so well established on the territory will be ample argument against breaking up their homes, he said. Mr. Cureton characterized the boundary suit as one of the greatest ever conducted in the history of the world. It involves thousands of acres and millions of dollars, he said, and the amount of evidence submitted is stupendous. A corps of trained stenographers was busy with the group all Wednesday taking testimony as it was offered. Short hand notes were immediately converted into typewritten sheets.

Controversy Begins In 1918.

In outlining the history of the case, Mr. Cureton mentioned that its inception was in 1918 on the occasion of striking the first oil well at Burk Burnett. For awhile, he stated, the most open warfare existed between residents of Texas and Oklahoma, and it was necessary to send rangers to the scene before order could be restored. Oklahoma entered suit for the land in the fall of 1919, claiming land to the south bluffs of the Red river. This embraced valuable oil lands in Texas, and in Wilbarger county alone covers

HE ESTABLISHED WORLD RECORD FOR ALTITUDE

Captain John A. MacReady.

Captain John A. MacReady, chief of the Flying Section, U. S. Air Service, at McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, who reached an altitude of 40,000 feet with a Le Pere biplane equipped with a General Electric Supercharger or oxygen booster. This is the highest altitude that man has ever reached. The Le Pere plane had been used exclusively for altitude tests since 1919. In February, 1920, Major Schroeder reached 38,800 feet in the same plane, then lost consciousness and fell five miles in two minutes, but regained his senses and made a safe landing. The supercharger feeds air to the engines at about 20,000 feet of the same density as at sea level, solving one of the chief obstacles against reaching high altitudes by aviators.

Gives Striking Testimony.

Some of the most interesting testimony offered Wednesday was by C. E. Doan of the community which bears his name. Captain Doan gave the early history of his settlement when the Doan trading post existed, and stated that persons came as far as seventy-five miles to his postoffice to receive their mail. He described life among the cowboys and Indians, and the character of the country at that time.

One of the most interesting bits of his testimony dealt with his meeting with Lord Balfour of England, when the latter came to this country to look after ranching interests. He told of the nobleman doffing his natty English clothes for cowboy garb and making good on the ranch.

Mrs. Bertha Ross, daughter of Captain Doan, told of her childhood in the Doan section. Mrs. Ross was the first white child in Wilbarger county. She described the character of the terrain in the neighborhood of Doan, and of her father's testimony of this nature.

Bands Testimony As Lie.

M. Fowler, who is reputed to have brought in the famous Fowler well at Burk Burnett, created a mild sensation in court when he described testimony offered in Oklahoma and read to him from the records as "a damned lie." The testimony was reputed to come from an acquaintance of Fowler's who related incidents supposed to have occurred when the two men were traveling together.

Fowler was asked by Attorney-General Cureton whether or not the wind blew sand from the Texas side of the river to the Oklahoma side. When he replied in the affirmative, he was asked if he did not consider that enough Texas soil found its way thus to the northerly neighbor without that state claiming additional land.

Photos Examined.

L. P. Kramer testified concerning photographs he made in August of this year for the attorney-general's office. Details in the pictures were pointed out and elaborated upon.

C. A. Allingham testified concerning the nature of the Red river and his experience since living in its neighborhood. He was asked especially concerning whether or not the river continually changed its course, and answered in the negative.

Testimony of other witnesses all hinged on the nature of the Red river valleys in this county, and bore along the same lines. John A. Storey, county attorney, was made representative of the State for this county in the boundary dispute on the suggestion of Attorney-General Cureton.

This is a story of the West, full of the brain with thrills that will keep up an interest. A love story weaves its way through the exciting situations and turns out "Just Right" in the end.

Monday—"What's a Wife Worth?"

The story begins with the marriage of a wealthy man and a village belle.

From the outset the marriage is unhappy because of the interference of parasites and social climbers. A direct result is the husband's death, and cast upon her own resources with a child to care for. The man marries again—this time a girl whose mother can see only dollar marks on the horizon. Affection between the two is a minor consideration in the match.

The husband and wife soon agree to disagree. A child is born and dies;

and the doctor substitutes another,

thinking it may bring the man and woman together. The mother thinks more of card parties than she does of the baby, however, and the father discovers that the substituted baby is the child of his first wife. A reconciliation with the latter follows.

At the Pictorium.

Today and Saturday—Corinne Griff-

The first few reels of this picture show the star as a country girl of fourteen who keeps a store with her brother. Another woman comes into the boy's life and wrecks it; as a result the sister swears vengeance. A lapse of five years shows the girl a successful illustrator, with but one purpose in life—that of making the other woman pay for her brother's death. She finds however, when she gets to traveling the road of love, that it is not hers to bring punishment to her enemy.

Monday—Bebé Daniels in "Two

She knew she loved him but she didn't know who he was. That is the situation in which a young girl finds herself in this picture. Pansy—that is her name—meets him in a mud puddle

following an automobile smash-up.

She thinks that he must be surely be a millionaire, though in fact he is only a garage proprietor. That makes no difference, because she is only a sales

Although critically ill, Robert Hous-

sels shows some improvement, according to a telegram received by W. H.

kins at Long Beach. Mr. Hawkins reached Long Beach yesterday in response to summons to the bedside of Mrs. Hawkins' father.

"Mr. Housels recognized us and was glad we had come," the telegram from

Mr. Hawkins said. "Although his condition is critical, I do not apprehend any immediate danger."

Mr. Housels is 87 years old. His physician says the wonderful tenacity

with which he holds onto life is a result of constitutional vigor seldom equaled. He is president of the Waggoner National Bank of Vernon.

J. M. Underwood returned this morn-eight states were present. Mr. Under-der-taking establishments while away,

but found none that appeared as mod-

LOOKS AS THOUGH DIOGENES WOULD NEED A SEARCHLIGHT INSTEAD OF A LANTERN.

Amidas with all his attributes lived too soon! The witty old prevaricator should have lived in an age when, with bag and ball and club, he could stroll over the billowing greensward shouting "Fore" at the proper intervals. To be a liar, and an accomplished one at that, in a time when there was nothing particularly to lie about, is merely wasting talent. Nothing in the history of the world, from the day when Adam donned his first fig leaf until the present, has given such an opportunity and wide field of endeavor to the liars of the universe as the entrancing game of golf.

According to devotees of the sport at Hill Crest, cooler weather is developing a host of "forgetters" that the burning rays of summer failed to lure from shady retreats. Even those who have looked with disdain the past season on the perspiring, futile efforts of white hatted figures to knock out of sight a tiny peller of white, have swallowed their prejudice and decided to try it for themselves.

Have Lax Memories.

And somehow, it is whispered about cautiously among those who have been at the game all summer, the newcomers are amazingly lax in the matter of keeping careful tab on their scores. There have been pars and bogies by the score from players who paid their first dollar for golf balls when old timers have never been successful in negotiating the required distance without many extra strokes and words that are not generally employed in the general run of daily affairs.

The worst feature of the epidemic appears in its contagious nature. It has spread rapidly among the novices and, alas, it has even tainted the ranks of the veterans. "Let me see," says the old timer as he begins to count up the strokes required to travel from the last hole "it was—" but ere he can get the words out of his mouth every player in the group, who has been keeping every other fellow's score on the back of his card, thunders out the numerals.

CHEWING GUM CAUSES DEATH

Davidson Boy Swallows Quantity Of Dainty and As Result Loses Life.

Leslie McCollough, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCollough, of Davidson, Okla., died here at midnight Wednesday following an operation for appendicitis. Death, however, is said not to have ensued as a result of the operation as the boy was apparently on the way to recovery and out of bed when taken critically ill.

His mother and sister are said to have come to the hospital to visit the boy and brought him a quantity of chewing gum. In order to avoid detection on the part of the nurses, the lad swallowed the gum at intervals, and in his weakened condition complications set in that resulted in his death.

The body was sent to Davidson Thursday. The boy's father is a prominent farmer in that locality.

DISCOVERS FADED CLIPPING IN OLD PIECE OF FURNITURE

A. F. Hope, while making over a piece of furniture belonging to Mrs. J. E. Prince of this city, discovered this week a torn clipping from a newspaper put into one of the drawers years ago. Faded and yellow, the clipping is dated Jonesboro, Tenn., Sept. 21, 1847. An account on the clipping is a fragment from an article dealing with a church controversy. Following is the part which can be deciphered:

"—over the whole ground of the controversy between our church and theirs Mr. — gives out that he has matter for twelve months' against Methodism. The undersigned has matter for a twelve years' contest, and promises some disclosures in his monthly. Those editors of religious and political—who will insert this prospectus two times, and send us their papers containing the same, shall have this work for one year. W. G. Brownlow, editor and publisher."

GROWS SWEET POTATOES FROM DISCARDED PEELINGS

W. J. Barnes has apparently solved the problem of "eating his cake and having it too." Last spring Mr. Barnes bought some sweet potatoes. They were peeled and eaten, the parings being thrown into the garbage can.

As the result of a happy thought, the peelings were removed from the garbage and put into a hot bed. Slips were planted, and Mr. Barnes estimates that he will dig twenty bushels of potatoes from this beginning.

Great Western Heatwell

The Rapid-fire Hot-draft

THE HEATWELL is a double-tube hot-draft stove of exceptional heating properties. It gets most out of the coal—produces heat in greater volume than its size and fuel consumption would indicate.

In the HEATWELL, there are two hot-draft tubes—one on each side—to admit the air. There is no obstruction at all to the coal put in through the feed-opening.

When the fire has been started, and the tubes are opened, there is tremendous combustion at the top of the fire-pot, which is large, while the grate-surface is comparatively small.

The fire-pot of the heatwell is exposed—not enclosed. This construction, in conjunction with the center-ring, deflects the heat to the floor, giving unusually warm floors.

There is a cast section above the fire-pot; hence, the hot coals never come into contact with the Oak steel body. There's an opening in this section, so that a poker may be inserted to break up the coal if necessary. This saves lifting the feed-cover.

There's a cast base to the HEATWELL enclosing an ash-pan. This is provided with a screw-valve to be opened for the draft or thrown back when the grate is to be shaken.

Asbestos rope packing is inserted between the joints, between the bottom, ash-pit, fire-pot and center section. The joint between the sheet steel drum and the section above the fire-pot is protected by a heavy cast ring.

The cover of the HEATWELL swings aside and gives a surface for a large vessel, without in any way interfering with the draft registers.

The HEATWELL is a stove that delivers service no matter how cold the weather.

WHY NOT THE HIGHWAY?

"If you will pave the highway, we are for the bond issue." This statement has been made by many good citizens of Wilbarger county in regard to the present proposed bond issue of $300,000 for road building.

Undoubtedly a paved highway from Chillicothe to a connection with the Wichita paved highway near Flocta would be delightful to contemplate. It would please many in Vernon, just as it would delight residents of Harrold and other communities.

But would it be fair to vote a bond issue for the county and spend all the money on a single road extending from one end of the county to the other? This is specially true since—as Judge McHugh tells us—funds for keeping up roads in the county have already been exhausted, and if all this money were spent on the highway, other communities would have to go without.

It seems much more equitable that the main roads in four directions should be permanently improved. These are thoroughfares that accommodate by far the greater part of travel on the part of the men who will pay taxes, and they are a beginning of what may be extended into a complete system of roads for Wilbarger county.

Furthermore, the building of permanent bridges and culverts in various parts of the county is little less important than the paving it is proposed to do. That is why $50,000 is to be set aside by the commissioners for work in each of the four precincts.

GOSS POINTED THE WAY.

According to the statisticians the United States has 36,617,584 cotton spindles. In the Southern States North Carolina has 5,228,266; South Carolina has 5,013,538; Alabama, 1,283,096; Georgia, 2,684,325; Tennessee, 415,593. Massachusetts leads with 11,810,563. North Carolina ranks second in number of spinners and South Carolina third. What of Texas the banner cotton producing state and the banner buying state, speaking of cotton goods. Well, George Robinson tells it in his intimitable way. He says that there are not enough spindles to be enumerated "save with other states." He says not a pound of cotton is grown in Massachusetts and yet the Bay state leads all the rest. He says the two Carolinas in combination are close contestants of Massachusetts and what is more to the point the Carolinas spin more cotton than they grow. Hon. D. F. Goss of Baylor County points the way; when Texas mills and factories consume Texas cotton and wool, Texas will be the richest and the greatest of all American states.—The Record News

That American cities are making tremendous strides in street paving is indicated in reports from city engineers to the Asphalt Association, New York, which show that sixty million square yards, or 3,488 miles of Asphaltic pavement, thirty feet wide, will be laid on city streets this year. This will be an increase of 25 per cent over the yardage in 1920 and is sufficient to build an asphalt road thirty feet wide from Augusta, Me., to San Francisco, Cal.

Saginaw, Mich., broke the record this year with an increase of 600 per cent over its yardage for last year. Akron, O., increased its yardage 500 per cent and Rochester, N. Y., 300 per cent. Other gains were as follows: Chicago, Ill., 60 per cent; Des Moines, Ia., 100 per cent; Boston, Mass., 50 per cent; Norfolk, Va., 100 per cent; Detroit, Mich., 50 per cent; Portland, Ore., 20 per cent; Roanoke, Va., 60 per cent; San Antonio, Tex., 14 per cent.

The five boroughs of New York City laid a total of 1,991,783 square yards, as follows: Bronx, 418,709 square yards; Brooklyn, 548,000 square yards;

Queens, 337,843 square yards; Richmond, 118,300 square yards; and Manhattan, 503,649 square yards. The increase in each borough over the yardage for last year were as follows: Bronx, 90 per cent; Brooklyn, 10 per cent; Queens, 55 per cent; Richmond, 100 per cent, and Manhattan 20 per cent.

The asphalt paving laid this year in other leading cities of the country includes: Columbus, O., with 93,500 square yards; Springfield, Mass., 180,250 square yards; Boston, Mass., 456,921 square yards; New Orleans, La., 155,983 square yards; San Diego, 142,068 square yards; Denver, Colo., 151,000 square yards; Washington, D. C., 250,297 square yards; San Antonio, Texas, 226,000 square yards; Indianapolis, 406,000 square yards; Rochester, N. Y., 323,547 square yards; Norfolk, Va., 158,635 square yards; Fort Worth, Tex., 172,217 square yards; Detroit, Mich., 1,295,000 square yards; Baltimore, Md., 660,665 square yards; Portland, Ore., 312,336 square yards; Providence, R. I., 271,892 square yards; Oklahoma City, Okla., 158,000 square yards; Akron, O., 125,000 square yards; Jersey City N. J., 108,180 square yards; Flint, Mich., 129,500 square yards; New Bedford, Mass., 176,431 square yards; Jacksonville, Fla., 75,416 square yards; Roanoke, Va., 87,110 square yards; St. Paul, Minn., 138,000 square yards; Newark, N. J., 104,800 square yards; Kansas City, Mo., 84,915 square yards; Cincinnati, O., 165,000 square yards; San Francisco, Cal., 186,648 square yards; Chicago, Ill., 1,813,800 square yards; Des Moines, Ia., 135,905 square yards; St. Louis, Mo., 186,509 square yards; Birmingham, Ala., 270,000 square yards; Saginaw, Mich., 120,000 square yards; and Colorado Springs, Colo., 88,340 square yards. The last named city expects to lay 165,000 square yards of asphalt paving in 1922.

The Dark Continent

In making a study of the Dark Continent, one finds that there are really three Africas, so far as the problems of that land are concerned. Christian Africa lies at the southern end of the continent, and here live almost five and one half million people. Pagan Africa is the greatest solid mass of paganism on earth. Mohammedan Africa, teeming with forty million souls, spreads over that vast area from the Equator to the Mediterranean Sea. This is the educational frontier of the world. It is estimated that here are one hundred million without a written language.

That Ounce of Preventative

Each year there are many business failures that could have been prevented by applying just a bit of preventative in the form of consultation with the banker. Many good concerns have been put out of business by unjust lawsuits; by the lack of proper business counsel at the right time and by that panic producer—FEAR.

If you are getting in deep water do not hesitate to talk freely to your banker. Nine times out of ten you will be saved a great deal of trouble and embarrassment, and at the same time you will gain the added respect of your banker by your action at not taking chances.

The officers of this bank have had many years experience in varied lines and the sum total of this is available at any time regardless of whether you are a customer of this bank or not.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XII. NORTH CAROLINA

THE CAPITAL of North Carolina is very appropriately named Raleigh, for it was Sir Walter Raleigh who was responsible for North Carolina's first settlement. It was in 1584 that Raleigh obtained permission from Queen Elizabeth to plant an English colony in America, and the expeditions which he sent established a little colony on Roanoke island. There in 1587 was born the first American child of English parents. She was named Virginia Dare, after the virgin queen. This colony, due to England's war with Spain, could not be properly supported, and after a few years perished. It was not until over a century later that permanent settlements were made. During pioneers from Virginia pressed south into the new territory, and these, augmented by a large company of Huguenots from France and a greater number of Germans from the Palatinate, founded the first North Carolina town of Newburn in 1710. By the time of the Revolution the population in North Carolina had increased to such an extent, with an influx of Scotch-Irish and Scotch Highlanders who settled chiefly in the western counties, that it ranked fourth among the original thirteen colonies. Today its population entitles it to twelve electoral votes for president. In area it stands about half way among the states with 52,428 square miles. North Carolina was the twelfth state to adopt the Constitution, the formal ratification taking place in November, 1789. The derivation of the name Carolina, as in the case of South Carolina, came from the Latin Carolus, meaning Charles, and was given originally in honor of King Charles IX of France and retained by King Charles II of England. North Carolina is also known as the Old North state.

ASK LOCAL AID FOR UNEMPLOYED

BUSINESS MEN URGED TO BACK PLAN PROPOSED BY NATION- AL CONFERENCE.

Support for the program advanced by the National Conference on Unemployment looking to relief of idle workers was asked of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce in a communication from Joseph H. Defrees, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and a member of the Conference.

Mr. Defrees especially urged that local business men get behind the plan proposed by the Conference for the mayors to organize local Emergency Committees in their communities. He asked them to offer the mayors immediate assistance in order that the machinery of organization shall be speeded up on a national basis. Every town, said Mr. Defrees, has a responsibility to the nation to organize to meet this question immediately and the nation can only bring its help to bear when the cities and the states are organized so as to make their help effective.

Business Has Responsibility.

"Business," said Mr. Defrees, "has a very great responsibility in the situation. It furnishes employment. Business men in the communities should take the lead in co-operating with the mayors in creation of the emergency committees and in working out constructive community programs for relieving unemployment in their vicinity."

The situation cannot be met without proper organization. It is primarily a community problem. The local business man, through his business organization and individually, should make every effort to meet the situation in his city. The existing unemployment presents a real problem which must have immediate attention."

Road Project Would Aid.

The proposed road bond issue for Wilbarger county would furnish one effective means of meeting this proposition, according to a representative of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce. Such a project, it is argued, would furnish employment for a considerable number of men, and help materially to circulate more money in the community. This plan has found favor from many county citizens.

OMISSION OF DASH CREDITS CHURCH WITH DANCE

By the way! It is not amiss at this time to explain that no spirit of facetiousness, revenge, or just common "orneryness" prompted a Record make-up man to omit a dash between the article in the last issue giving an account of the revival meeting at the Christian church, and one relating the details of a dance at Hill Crest Country Club. With only a subhead between, one story finished with the statement that the visiting minister had preached on "The Sermon On the Mount," and in the next breath there was the assertion that Hill Crest members enjoyed a dance Saturday night.

The hands of The Record clock have a habit of hurtling toward 5 p. m. on press days, and as a consequence there is a bit of flurry connected with making up the paper and running it off the press before that hour arrives. Hence, any omissions of the above nature can be reckoned as mistakes of the head and not the heart.

FISHERMEN RESCUED AFTER LINER PASSED THEM BY

Captain Albert B. Randall, commander of the United States liner Hudson, has been suspended from duty as the result of his failing to aid three Brooklyn, N. Y. fishermen who were adrift seven miles out on the Atlantic in a disabled motorboat. The men had been drifting seaward more than twelve hours, when the Hudson came up on seeing their signals for assistance. The Hudson, however, failed to stop, sending out a radio telling of the fishermen's plight. More than seven hours after the Hudson had passed them by the three were rescued by the coast liner Nantucket, bound from Boston to Philadelphia. Captain's Randall's defense was that an other steamer was nearer the men and that he had ordered his wireless operator to notify the freighter to go to the assistance of the men and to explain that he had mails aboard and was proceeding. The photo shows the rescued men, who testified at the hearing. Left to right: Albert R. Tuveri, Edward D. Young and William T. Tuveri.

"FOUR HORSEMEN" COMING

Pictures Made From Hatcher's Great War Story Will Be Shown At Local Theatre Tuesday.

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" by Vicente Blasco Ibañez, said by some to be the supreme expression of the Great War, has been put into pictures at a cost of a million dollars. The photoplay will be shown in Vernon for the first time on Tuesday, October 18, at Moe's Theatre. The book now in its one hundred and sixty-sixth edition, has been read throughout the world. It was transferred to the screen by June Mathis and the making of the picture was directed by Rex Ingram.

Readers of the novel will recall that the story opens on the Argentine ranch of old Medaraga, who rules his territories with feudal power. A rioting roystering despot, he is filled with Castilian pride of family and yearns for a male child to carry on his tradition. His two daughters have married ranch employees—the one a German and the other a French. He has an antipathy for his half-German grand-children, but is filled with great pride when a son is born to the Frenchman, Desnoyers. The boy, Julio, is selected heir to the great estate and is brought up as a prince of the realm.

Later the war comes and the conflicts are of course on opposite sides of the conflict. Julio finally meets death at the hands of his kinsmen when the two face each other in a trench raid. Through all the story gallop the "Four Horsemen" spoken of by St. John in the Book of the Apocalypse, the grim figures of Conquest, War, Famine and Death.

WANT UNION OF WELFARE EFFORTS

COMMITTEE SUGGESTS PLAN TO ELIMINATE DUPLICATION OF WORK

A specific recommendation in writing was compiled Wednesday morning by a committee from the various welfare organizations in the county in the interest of forming a consolidation of agencies here for the purpose of eliminating duplicate work in ministering to the needy. An earlier meeting, held last week, considered the plan for such a union, but nothing definite was done toward its formation. The plan outlined below is formulated to present the proposition concisely not merely to the public but to the various welfare organizations in the county.

To the Public:

"Charity work now being done in this county results in duplication of effort. The various organizations are often ignorant of what each other is doing. The result is that imposters and dead beats are getting too much help and the worthy are often left to suffer. Another result is that we have too many drives.

"In view of these facts, the following remedy for the situation is suggested:

Want Single Body.

"Organize a county wide body to be known as the Wilbarger Welfare Association. Each voting district will have a member of the advisory council. The duties of these councilmen will be to report to the secretary any case needing attention and in advising how to help that case. The association will have a board of directors, composed of one representative from each of the following: County Commissioners' court; United Charities; Red Cross; Medical Association; Pastors' Association; Chamber of Commerce; Retail Merchants Association; Good Fellows; American Legion; Rotary Club; Lions Club; and Salvation Army. This board will elect an executive committee of three. The executive committee will employ a public health nurse and a secretary of the association and shall supervise the disbursement of the funds of the association.

A careful estimate of the amounts raised in this county by all the various agencies for charitable work during the past twelve months shows that a total of about $10,000 was secured. With a consolidation of agencies, duplication of efforts will be put an end to, the needy will be taken care of, and the public health nurse can be kept affiliated with the Red Cross. The estimated cost of this plan is $6,000 a year.

CITY MARSHAL NOT APPOINTED

Commissioners Unable Tuesday To Agree On Head of Local Police Force.

REV. C. A. CHASTEEN SAYS SECRET SINS WILL FIND US OUT

Evangelist At Christian Church Draws Lesson From Disobedience of Achan—Says There is Too Much Sin in Our Camps Today and One of Greatest Is Religious Prejudice.

"Fear God and Keep His Commandments, for this is the Whole Duty of Man," is the text upon which the Rev. Chas. A. Chasteen, evangelist at the Central Christian Church, based his sermon on "The Secret Sin" which he delivered to a good audience last night. Mr. Chasteen wove his discourse about the story of the fall of Jericho and the small but significant sin of Achan, which caused the loss of thirty-six of Joshua's best men and the defeat of an army of three thousand.

"The trouble with man is, that he does almost as he is commanded to do and lets it go at that," he said. "So many people think that as long as they are good in the general sense of the word they are all right; and that no specific acts of goodness are necessary. That old saying of 'It is all right for us to do so and so, if our heart is right' is used as a dodge by the majority of people who quote it. If the heart is really right through having searched and studied the scriptures, and if we act according to the teachings of the Bible—then and only then can we say things we do are all right because our hearts are right."

No One Will Know.

Mr. Chasteen went minutely into the story of Achan, told how he disobeyed the commandment of God by salvaging for himself from the city of Jericho, a Babylonian mantle, a wedge of gold and two hundred shekels of silver, when the Lord has commanded that nothing be saved from destruction save a few exceptions which He, Himself, looked after. "What's the harm," the man said to himself. "No one will know."

"So many of us say that," Mr. Chasteen declared. "Instead of asking what good there is in the thing in question. If we would ask 'How many souls has an act of this sort saved? How many persons has it lifted to a higher plane of living?' Instead of saying, 'What harm is there in it?' we would be judging our acts by a loftier standard."

"God has placed all sin in the same category," the evangelist declared. "There are no little sins; there are no 'white' lies. Every lie and every other sin is as black as can be and there is nothing white about it."

Little Sin Brings Death.

"After Jericho had been taken by the children of Israel under the leadership of Joshua," the speaker said, going on with his Biblical narrative, "they looked forward to the capture of the city of Ai. Spies were sent and came back reporting that it would be easily captured. But when the army of three thousand was sent out against the enemy it was defeated and thirty-six of the best men were slain. As a result Joshua and his confederates lay down in the dust and wept and bemoaned their fate. God then came to Joshua and told him that the breaking of one of his commands had brought about this defeat; and he ordered the leader to seek out the sin that was in the camp of Israel and get rid of it. Then came the humiliation of Achan; for when the dye was cast he was found to be guilty. It was his 'little' sin that had cost the lives of thirty-six, and that brought to him death and to his family disgrace."

No Reward Without Obedience.

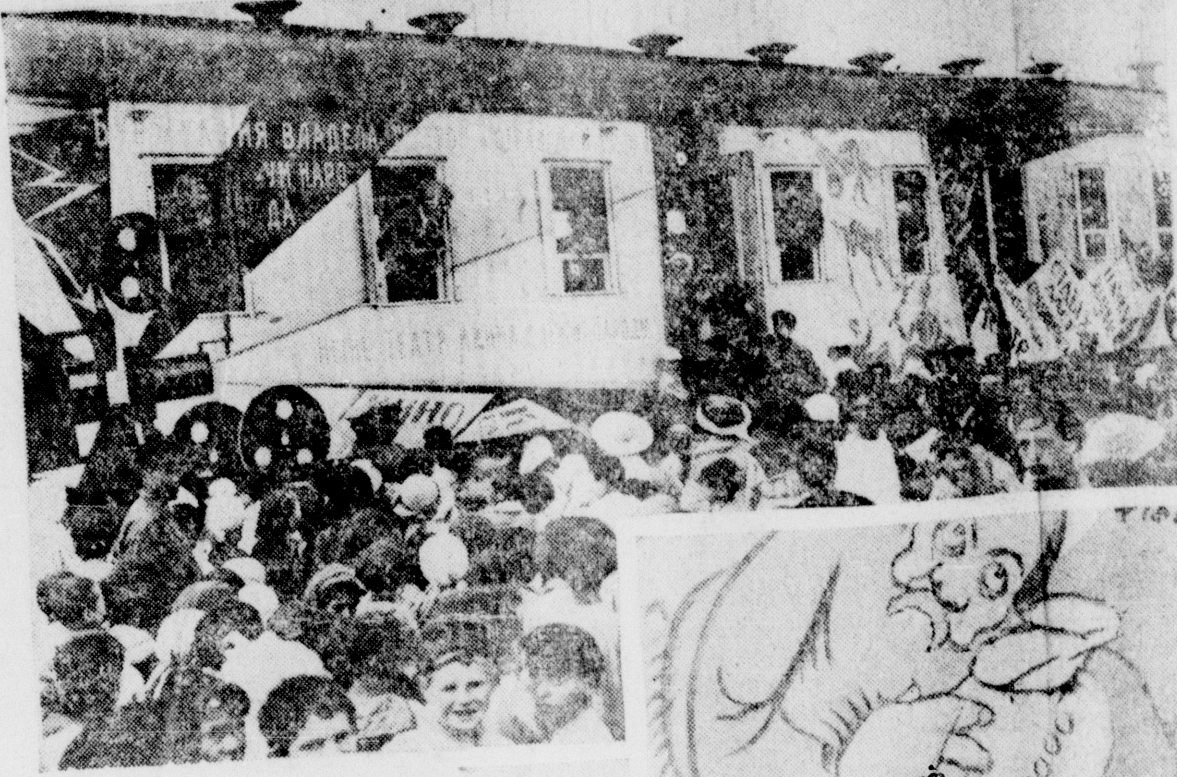

"God has made all His promises upon condition," the speaker reminded his hearers. "Upon condition that we study His laws and abide by them for, 'That man who obeyeth not gets not the reward.'"

Applying the lesson taught in the story of the fall of Jericho Mr. Chasteen said: "There is too much sin in our camp today. Do you know that fifty per cent of the people in the United States never enter the doors of any church, Catholic or Protestant? In a town of six thousand we call a church with three hundred members a good one. It is pitiable; it is deplorable."

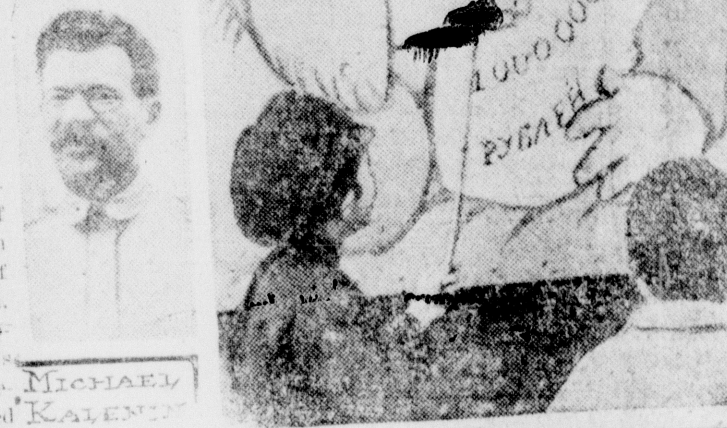

He enumerated some of the outstanding sins as follows: Covetousness, religious indifference, coarseness and laziness on the part of so-called Christians, jealousy and gossip.

"But the meanest sin in the camp of

RUSSIAN SOVIET GOVERNMENT USES MOVIES IN PROPAGANDA WORK

To bring the movies to the villages of Russia, the Soviet Government has cinema cars attached to its propaganda trains. Red literature is distributed to all who attend the free movies. On the right are two Russian youngsters laughing at a caricature of capitalism, painted on the side of one of the Soviet propaganda trains which tour the country for the distribution of their literature. He has long been associated with the radical movement in Russia.

RED CROSS NURSE COMPILES STATISTICS OF EIGHT MONTHS' WORK

The number of school children, their defects, and other information concerning the welfare work of the Wilbarger County Red Cross, has been compiled by Miss Rosa Ehlmann, nurse. The period covered dates from February 15, 1921, when Miss Ehlmann came here, until the present date. It does not take into consideration one month during which the nurse was on a vacation.

The following is the report compiled by Miss Ehlmann:

Number of school children examined: 2,070; number of children found defective: 1,650. Defects were—vision: 302; teeth: 828; mouth breathers: 470; ten per cent or more underweight: 788. Attendance at clinics: 707; home school visits: 370; infant welfare visits: 263; nursing visits: 292; total number of visits made: 1,548; assistance in operations: 18; obstetrical cases: 193.

Christians is religious prejudice. Many persons maliciously call their neighbors 'sectarians' instead of the name they choose to be called. The religious world needs to get acquainted instead of building fences around their own denominations. The world says, 'If you have such a good thing why don't you get together and glorify God?'

One Sin Dooms.

"It was one single sin that drove Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden; it was one sin that kept Moses out of the Promised Land; and yet we think today that we can play with sin. Our Great Teacher said, 'Be ye perfect, even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.'"

"When we come down to it," the speaker said in closing, "what business have we got sinning? Our sins will find us out, just as Achan was discovered; and he was made to pay for it, but too late to save the lives of the others whose deaths he had caused. Jesus has stepped in and has taken for us the punishment of our past sins. He has suffered so that we may be saved; we can escape punishment for the sins we have committed if we but accept Jesus and lead a Christian life henceforth."

With this plea Mr. Chasteen closed his discourse. He announced that he would preach on "The Unpardonable Sin," tonight. He urged that the school children attend the services Saturday night, at which time if they do, he will preach on "The Indulgent Father."

A good interest is being shown in the revival and the audiences are receiving the sermons well. The meeting will continue over next week and thereafter as long as the interest and results justify, it was announced.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT ELLIOTT CLUB MEETING

Elliott women enjoyed a record attendance Monday at their meeting in the home of Mrs. Martha Rainwater, and the time was taken up with a discussion of making tailored garments and Christmas presents. The Elliott home demonstration club has the reputation of being one of the liveliest women's organizations in the county. Following are those who were present:

Mrs. Martha Rainwater, Joe Boaz, Edna Jackson, Maud Yearby, Nettie Henderson, Ranza Lutterell, Jimmie Rainwater, Dora Houtchins, Vera Lemons, Eva Kirk, Wilkerson, Glover, Chaud Wagoner, Ruth Goss, Cook, C. B. Masson, Sam Kelly, and Miss Grace Kelly.

Smithson and Lynch Move Quarters.

A fully equipped machine shop has been established on North Cumberland street in the old Meridian Garage by W. D. Smithson and S. J. Lynch, who formerly conducted a similar establishment in the rear of the Vernon Hotel. The proprietors are completely equipped for welding work.

A three room school building will be constructed at once at Doans, according to an announcement of the county superintendent. The building will be of frame.

QUANTITY OF CANNED GOODS AND SEWING FORWARDED TO EXPOSITION.

Two barrels of canned goods in addition to a quantity of sewing has been forwarded to the Dallas Fair from the county home demonstration department as contributions of the work of Wilbarger club girls during the past year. The work is all of unusual quality. It is expected that its worth will be duly recognized when premiums are forthcoming.

Best samples of sewing were submitted by Miss Helen Ritchie of Wilbarger, Miss Jimmie Whitel of Oklahoma, Miss Ramal Butler of Oklahoma, Miss Yvonne Little and Miss Jeanette Little of Harrold, Miss Mae Vaughn of Harrold, Miss Ruby Janu-ary of Hank Hill, Miss Thelma Swinney of Elliott, Miss Nora Belle Lowe of Lockett, Miss Irene Muller of Hinds, and Miss Opal Gribble of Harrold.

Five Win Trips.

Numbers of the girls will leave Monday to attend the Fair. Five have been awarded free trips for their good work, and the remainder have won almost enough prize money to defray their expenses.

County women have contributed twenty-two tubs of butter, two beautiful made shirts, made over garments, and several hats to Wilbarger's quota at the exposition. No prize is offered this year for hats as only one other county has submitted specimens.

BOUNDARY SUIT TESTIMONY HERE OF AID TO TEXAS

Attorney-General Curreton Expressed Himself As "Well Pleased" With Nature Of Evidence Offered—Early History Of Valleys Covered Thoroughly—16 Witnesses Testify.

Sixteen witnesses were examined Wednesday in the district court room by the special commission representing Texas, Oklahoma, and the United States government taking testimony on the Red river boundary dispute. Quizzing of those subpoenaed commenced at 9 o'clock in the morning, and continued well until the close of day. Minute details concerning Wilbarger county land in the vicinity of the stream were brought out by the visiting lawyers, one of whom was Hon. C. M. Curreton, attorney-general of Texas. Another distinguished barrister with the visiting group was Hon. J. A. Fain, serving as special assistant to the attorney-general of the United States. Mr. Fain is a brother-in-law of Mrs. W. D. Berry and Les K. Johnson of this city. His home is in Oklahoma City.

Others in the delegation were Hon. Frederick Tyler, special commissioner of the United States Supreme Court and a direct descendant of former President Tyler, George Short, assistant attorney-general of Oklahoma, H. S. Trailer representing the Indian department at Washington, Assistant Attorney-General Hawkins of Texas, and Messrs. Whitley, Welch, Fagan, Hill and Joiner, stenographers.

To Austin Monday.

From Vernon the party proceeded Thursday morning to Quanah where they took testimony yesterday. Upon the completion of this, the party will return to Austin where expert testimony, expected to last ten days, will commence Monday. During the visit in Vernon testimony offered concerned historical matters, the age of the valleys, the number of settlers in each farm, and data concerning Red river. After the conclusion of testimony, the case will be briefed and taken to Washington. It is set for a hearing before the United States Supreme Court January 9, but the great mass of testimony to be prepared makes such a course problematical.

Those who testified Wednesday were the following: C. F. Doan, R. W. Walker, Mrs. B. Ross, M. Fowler, R. L. More, C. A. Allingham, W. A. Ish, Charles Justin, D. L. Lorraine, W. T. Gibbons, W. D. McAdoo, A. J. Robinson, J. P. King, E. E. Lutz, T. J. Youngblood, and L. P. Kramer.

Testimony Here Satisfactory.

C. M. Curreton, Texas attorney-general, described the testimony here as "highly satisfactory." He stated to a representative of The Record that it brought out "just what we've established facts in the Red river valley," this vicinity, and there are over 200 school children and forty-seven farms in the local district claimed by Oklahoma.

Mr. Curreton expressed the belief that the United States Supreme Court will never take land of this character away from Texas and give it to an adjoining State. The fact that Texas settlers have become so well established on the territory will be ample argument against breaking up their homes, he said. Mr. Curreton characterized the boundary suit as one of the greatest in the history of the world. It involves thousands of acres and millions of dollars, he said, and the amount of evidence submitted is stupendous. A corps of trained stenographers was busy with the group all Wednesday taking testimony as it was offered. Short hand notes were immediately converted into typewritten sheets.

Controversy Begins In 1818.

In outlining the history of the case, Mr. Curreton mentioned that its inception was in 1818 on the occasion of striking the first oil well at Burkhennett. For awhile, he stated, almost no open warfare existed between residents of Texas and Oklahoma, and it was necessary to send rangers to the scene before order could be restored. Oklahoma entered suit for the land in the fall of 1918, claiming land to the south bluff of the Red river. This embraced valuable oil lands in Texas, and in Wilbarger county alone covers

HE ESTABLISHED WORLD RECORD FOR ALTITUDE

Captain John A. MacReady.

Captain John A. MacReady, chief of the Flying Section, U. S. Air Service, at McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio, who reached an altitude of 40,000 feet with a Le Pere biplane equipped with a General Electric Supercharger or oxygen booster. This is the highest altitude that man has ever reached. The Le Pere plane had been used exclusively for altitude tests since 1919. In February, 1920, Major Schroeder reached 38,000 feet in the same plane, then lost consciousness and fell five miles in two minutes, but regained his senses and made a safe landing. The supercharger feeds air to the engines at about 20,000 feet of the same density as at sea level, solving one of the chief obstacles against reaching high altitudes by aviators.

more than 25,000 acres, including six valleys.

Gives Striking Testimony.

Some of the most interesting testimony offered Wednesday was by C. F. Doan of the community which bears his name. Captain Doan gave the early history of his settlement when the Doan trading post existed, and stated that persons came as far as seven miles to his postoffice to receive their mail. He described life among the cowboys and Indians, and the character of the country at that time.

One of the most interesting bits of his testimony dealt with his meeting with Lord Balfour of England, when the latter came to this country to look after ranching interests. He told of the noblemen donning his natty English clothes for cowboy garb and making good on the ranch.

Mrs. Bertha Ross, daughter of Captain Doan, told of her childhood in the Doan section. Mrs. Ross was the first white child in Wilbarger county. She described the character of the terrain in the neighborhood of Doan, and offered further testimony of this nature.

Bands Testimony As Lie.

M. Fowler, who is reputed to have brought in the famous Fowler well at Burkhennett, created a mild sensation in court when he described testimony offered in Oklahoma and read to him from the records as "a damned lie." The testimony was reputed to come from an acquaintance of Fowler's who related incidents supposed to have occurred when the two men were traveling together.

Fowler was asked by Attorney-General Curreton whether or not the wind blew and from the Texas side of the river to the Oklahoma side. When he replied in the affirmative, he was asked if he did not consider that enough Texas soil found its way thus to the northerly neighbor without that state claiming additional land.

Photos Examined.

T. P. Kramer testified concerning photographs he made in August of this year for the attorney-general's office. Details in the pictures were pointed out and elaborated upon.

C. A. Allingham testified concerning the nature of the Red river and his experience since living in its neighborhood. He was asked especially concerning whether or not the river continually changed its course, and answered in the negative.

Testimony of other witnesses all hinged on the nature of the Red river valleys in this county, and bore along the same lines. John A. Storey, county attorney, was made representative of the State for this county in the boundary dispute on the suggestion of Attorney-General Curreton.

This is a story of the West, full to the brim with thrills that will keep you an interest. A love story winds its way through the exciting situations and turns out "just right" in the end.
Monday—"What's a Wife Worth?"
The story begins with the marriage of a wealthy man and a village belle. From the outset the marriage is unhappy because of the interference of parasites and social climbers. A divorce is granted and the husband is left with a child to care for. The man marries again—this time a girl whose mother can see only dollar marks on the horizon. Affection between the two is a minor consideration in the match, and the husband and wife soon agree to disagree. A child is born and dies; and the doctor substitutes another, thinking it may bring the man and woman together. The mother thinks more of card parties than she does of the baby, however, and the father discovers that the substituted baby is the child of his first wife. A reconciliation with the latter follows.

PROBE OF EVERY SECRET ORDER ASKED IN HOUSE

A Congressional investigation of every secret organization in the United States is asked in a resolution introduced in the House by Representative William Upshaw, Democrat of Alabama. The resolution provides for summoning of the chief officials of such organization before a special joint conference committee. Under the resolution every state would be called upon by congress to furnish the name of every secret organization, chartered or unchartered, which may be operating within its borders. The resolution set forth that as "only one of these secret organizations," the Ku Klux Klan, has been singled out for a Congressional investigation, all of them should be called "to give an account of their aims and purposes," the funds collected and expended by them, and also to disclose their oaths and rituals.

Animals with all his attributes lived too soon! The wily, old, prevaricator should have lived in an age when, with bag and ball and club, he could stroll over the billowing greenward shouting "Fore" at the proper intervals. To be a liar, and an accomplished one at that, in a time when there was nothing particular to lie about, is merely wasting talent. Nothing in the history of the world, from the day when Adam donned his first fig leaf until the present, has given such an opportunity and wide field of endeavor to the liars of the universe as the entrancing game of golf.

A lapse of five years shows the girl a successful illustrator, with but one purpose in life—that of making the other woman pay for her brother's death. ROBERT HOUSSERS BETTER

Message From L. G. Hawkins At Long Beach, California, Says Condition Is Critical.

Although critically ill, Robert Houssers shows some improvement, according to a telegram received by W. H. Huggins this morning from L. G. Hawkins at Long Beach. Mr. Hawkins reached Long Beach yesterday in response to summons to the bedside of Mrs. Hawkins' father.

"Mr. Houssers recognized us and was glad we had come," the telegram from Mr. Hawkins said. "Although his condition is critical, I do not apprehend any immediate danger."

Mr. Houssers is 87 years old. His physician says the wonderful tenacity with which he holds onto life is a result of constitutional vigor seldom equaled. He is president of the Wagoner National Bank of Vernon.

J. M. Underwood returned this morning from San Antonio, where he attended a national convention of undertakers. Representatives from thirty-eight states were present. Mr. Underwood says he visited numbers of undertaking establishments while away, but found none that appeared as modern and well arranged as his own here.

Have Lax Memories.

And somehow, it is whispered about cautiously among those who have been at the game all summer, the newcomers are amazingly lax in the matter of keeping careful tab on their scores. There have been pars and bogies by the score from players who paid their first dollar for golf balls, when old timers have never been successful in negotiating the required distance without many extra strokes and words that are not generally employed in the general run of daily affairs.

The worst feature of the epidemic appears in its contagious nature. It has spread rapidly among the novices and, alas, it has even tainted the ranks of the veterans. "Let me see," says the old timer as he begins to count up the strokes required to travel from the last hole, "it was—" but ere he can get the words out of his mouth every player in the group, who has been keeping every other fellow's score on the back of his card, thunders out the numerals.

CHEWING GUM CAUSES DEATH

Davidson Boy Swallows Quantity Of Dainty And As Result Loses Life.

Leslie McCollough, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCollough, of Davidson, Okla., died here at midnight Wednesday following an operation for appendicitis. Death, however, is said not to have ensued as a result of the operation as the boy was apparently on the way to recovery and out of bed when taken critically ill.

His mother and sister are said to have come to the hospital to visit the boy and brought him a quantity of chewing gum. In order to avoid detection on the part of the nurses, the lad swallowed the gum at intervals, and in his weakened condition complications set in that resulted in his death.

The body was sent to Davidson Thursday. The boy's father is a prominent farmer in that locality.

DISCOVERS FADED CLIPPING IN OLD PIECE OF FURNITURE

A. F. Hope, while making over a piece of furniture belonging to Mrs. J. E. Prince of this city, discovered this week a torn clipping from a newspaper put into one of the drawers years ago. Faded and yellow, the clipping is dated Jonesboro, Tenn., Sept. 21, 1847. An account on the clipping is a fragment from an article dealing with a church controversy. Following is the part which can be deciphered:

"...over the whole ground of the controversy between our church and theirs Mr. ——— gives out that he has matter for twelve months' against Methodism. The undersigned has matter for a twelve years' contest, and promises some disclosures in his monthly. Those editors of religious and political who will insert this prospectus two times, and send us their papers containing the same, shall have this work for one year. W. G. Brownlow, editor and publisher."

GROWS SWEET POTATOES FROM DISCARDED PEELINGS

W. J. Barnes has apparently solved the problem of "eating his cake and having it too." Last spring Mr. Barnes bought some sweet potatoes. They were peeled and eaten, the parings being thrown into the garbage can.

As the result of a happy thought, the peelings were removed from the garbage and put into a hot bed. Slips were planted, and Mr. Barnes estimates that he will dig twenty bushels of potatoes from this beginning.

Great Western Heatwell

The Rapid-fire Hot-draft

THE HEATWELL is a double-tube hot-draft stove of exceptional heating properties. It gets most out of the coal—produces heat in greater volume than its size and fuel consumption would indicate.

In the HEATWELL, there are two hot-draft tubes—one on each side—to admit the air. There is no obstruction at all to the coal put in through the feed-opening.

When the fire has been started, and the tubes are opened, there is tremendous combustion at the top of the fire-pot, which is large, while the grate-surface is comparatively small.

The fire-pot of the heatwell is exposed—not enclosed. This construction, in conjunction with the center-ring, deflects the heat to the floor, giving unusually warm floors.

There is a cast section above the fire-pot; hence, the hot coals never come into contact with the Oak steel body. There's an opening in this section, so that a poker may be inserted to break up the coal if necessary. This saves lifting the feed-cover.

There's a cast base to the HEATWELL enclosing an ash-pan. This is provided with a screw-valve to be opened for the draft or thrown back when the grate is to be shaken.

Asbestos rope packing is inserted between the joints, between the bottom, ash-pit, fire-pot and center section. The joint between the sheet steel drum and the section above the fire-pot is protected by a heavy cast ring.

The cover of the HEATWELL swings aside and gives a surface for a large vessel, without in any way interfering with the draft registers.

The HEATWELL is a stove that delivers service no matter how cold the weather.

WHY NOT THE HIGHWAY?

"If you will pave the highway, we are for the bond issue." This statement has been made by many good citizens of Wilbarger county in regard to the present proposed bond issue of $300,000 for road building.

Undoubtedly a paved highway from Chillicothe to a connection with the Wichita paved highway near Electra
would be delightful to contemplate. It would please many in Vernon, just as it would delight residents of Harrold
and other communities.

But would it be fair to vote a bond issue for the county and spend all the money on a single road extending from
one end of the county to the other?
This is specially true since—as Judge
McHugh tells us—funds for keeping up
roads in the county have already been exhausted, and if all this money were
spent on the highway, other communities would have to go without.

It seems much more equitable that the

main roads in four directions should be permanently improved. These are thoroughfares that accommodate by far
the greater part of travel on the part of the men who will pay taxes, and they are a beginning of what may be extended into a complete system of
roads for Wilbarger county.

Furthermore, the building of permanent bridges and culverts in various parts of the county is little less important than the paving it is proposed to do. That is why $50,000 is to be set aside by the commissioners for work in each of the four precincts.

Goss Pointed the Way.

According to the statisticians the United States has 36,617,584 cotton
spindles. In the Southern States
North Carolina has 5,228,266; South
Carolina has 5,913,538; Alabama, 1-283,006; Georgia, 2,684,325; Tennessee, 415,593. Massachusetts leads with 11,810,563. North Carolina ranks second in number of spindles and South Carolina third. What of Texas the banner cotton producing state and the banner buying state, speaking of cotton goods. Well, George Robinson tells it in his intimate way. He says that there are not enough spindles to be enumerated "save with other states."
He says not a pound of cotton is grown in Massachusetts and yet the Bay state leads all the rest. He says the two Carolinas in combination are close contendants of Massachusetts and what is more to the point the Carolinas spin
more cotton than they grow. Hon. D.
F. Goss of Baylor County points the way; when Texas mills and factories
consume Texas cotton and wool, Texas
will be the richest and the greatest of
all American states.—The Record News

NEW PAVED HIGHWAYS

WOULD CROSS CONTINENT

That American cities are making tremendous strides in street paving is indicated in reports from city engineers
to the Asphalt Association, New York,
which show that sixty million square
yards, or 3,488 miles of Asphaltic pavement, thirty feet wide, will be laid on city streets this year. This will be an increase of 25 per cent over the yardage in 1920 and is sufficient to build an asphalt road thirty feet wide from Augusta, Me., to San Francisco, Cal.

Saginaw, Mich., broke the record
this year with an increase of 600 per cent over its yardage for last year.
Akron, O., increased its yardage 500
per cent and Rochester, N. Y., 300 per cent. Other gains were as follows:
Chicago, Ill., 60 per cent; Des Moines,
Ia., 100 per cent; Boston, Mass., 50 per cent; Norfolk, Va., 100 per cent; Detroit, Mich., 50 per cent; Portland, Ore.,
20 per cent; Roanoke, Va., 60 per cent;
San Antonio, Tex., 14 per cent.

The five boroughs of New York City
laid a total of 1,991,783 square yards,
as follows: Bronx, 418,700 square
yards; Brooklyn, 548,000 square yards;

Queens, 357,843 square yards; Richmond, 118,300 square yards, and Manhattan, 503,649 square yards. The increase in each borough over the yard-
age for last year were as follows:
Bronx, 90 per cent; Brooklyn, 10 per cent; Queens, 55 per cent; Richmond, 100 per cent, and Manhattan 20 per cent.

The asphalt paving laid this year in other leading cities of the country includes: Columbus, O., with 93,500
square yards; Springfield, Mass., 180-
250 square yards; Boston, Mass., 458-
921 square yards; New Orleans, La.,
155,983 square yards; San Diego, 142-
068 square yards; Denver, Colo., 151-
000 square yards; Washington, D. C.,
250,297 square yards; San Antonio, Texas, 226,000 square yards; Indianapolis, 406,000 square yards; Rochester,
N. Y., 323,547 square yards; Norfolk,
Va., 158,635 square yards; Fort Worth,
Tex., 172,217 square yards; Detroit,
Mich., 1,295,000 square yards; Baltimore, Md., 660,665 square yards; Portland, Ore., 312,336 square yards; Providence, R. I., 271,892 square yards; Oklahoma City, Okla., 158,000 square
yards; Akron, O., 125,000 square yards;
Jersey City N. J., 108,180 square yards;
Flint, Mich., 129,500 square yards;
New Bedford, Mass., 176,431 square
yards; Jacksonville, Fla., 75,416 square
yards; Roanoke, Va., 87,110 square
yards; St. Paul, Minn., 138,000 square
yards; Newark, N. J., 104,800 square
yards; Kansas City, Mo., 84,915 square
yards; Cincinnati, O., 165,000 square
yards; San Francisco, Cal., 186,648
square yards; Chicago, Ill., 1,613,500
square yards; Des Moines, Ia., 135,903
square yards; St. Louis, Mo., 186,599
square yards; Birmingham, Ala., 270-
000 square yards; Saginaw, Mich., 120-
000 square yards; and Colorado Springs, Colo., 88,340 square yards. The last named city expects to lay 165,000
square yards of asphalt paving in 1922.

The Dark Continent

In making a study of the Dark Continent, one finds that there are really
three Africas, so far as the problems
of that land are concerned. Christian Africa lies at the southern end of the continent, and here live almost five
and one half million people. Pagan Africa is the greatest solid mass of paganism on earth. Mohammedan Africa, teeming with forty million souls,
spreads over that vast area from the Equator to the Mediterranean Sea.
This is the educational frontier of the world. It is estimated that here are one hundred million without a written language.

That Ounce of Preventative

Each year there are many business failures that could have been prevented by applying just a bit of preventative in the form of consultation with the banker.
Many good concerns have been put out of business by unjust lawsuits; by the lack of proper business counsel
at the right time and by that panic producer—FEAR.

If you are getting in deep water do not hesitate to talk freely to your banker. Nine times out of ten you will be saved a great deal of trouble and embarrassment,
and at the same time you will gain the added respect
of your banker by your action at not taking chances.

The officers of this bank have had many years experience in varied lines and the sum total of this is available at any time regardless of whether you are a customer of this bank or not.

XII.
NORTH CAROLINA

THE CAPITAL of North Carolina is very appropriately named Raleigh, for it was Sir Walter Raleigh who was responsible for North Carolina's first settlement. It was in 1584 that Raleigh obtained permission from Queen Elizabeth to plant an English colony in America, and the expeditions which he sent established a little colony on Roanoke Island. There in 1587 was born the first American child of English parents.
She was named Virginia Dare, after the virgin queen. This colony, due to England's war with Spain, could not be properly supported, and after a few years perished. It was not until over a century later that permanent settlements were made. During pioneers from Virginia pressed south into the new territory, and these, augmented by a large company of Huguenots from France and a greater number of Germans from the Palatinate, founded the first North Carolina town of Newburn in 1710. By the time of the Revolution the population in North Carolina had increased to such an extent, with an influx of Scotch-Irish and Scotch Highlanders who settled chiefly in the western counties, that it ranked fourth among the original thirteen colonies. Today its population entitles it to twelve electoral votes for president. In area it stands about half way among the states with 52,428 square miles. North Carolina was the twelfth state to adopt the Constitution, the formal ratification taking place in November, 1789. The derivation of the name Carolina, as in the case of South Carolina, came from the Latin Carolus, meaning Charles, and was given originally in honor of King Charles IX of France and retained by King Charles II of England.
North Carolina is also known as the Old North state.

ASK LOCAL AID FOR UNEMPLOYED

BUSINESS MEN URGED TO BACK
PLAN PROPOSED BY NATION-AL CONFERENCE.

Support for the program advanced by the National Conference on Unemployment looking to relief of idle workers was asked of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce in a communication from Joseph H. Defrees, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and a member of the Conference.

Mr. Defrees especially urged that local business men get behind the plan proposed by the Conference for the mayors to organize local Emergency Committees in their communities. He asked them to offer the mayors immediate assistance in order that the machinery of organization shall be speeded up on a national basis. Every town, said Mr. Defrees, has a responsibility to the nation to organize to meet this question immediately and the nation can only bring its help to bear when the cities and the states are organized so as to make their help effective.

Business Has Responsibility.

"Business," said Mr. Defrees, "has a very great responsibility in the situation. It furnishes employment. Business men in the communities should take the lead in co-operating with the mayors in creation of the emergency committees and in working out constructive community programs for relieving unemployment in their vicinities."

"The situation cannot be met without proper organization. It is primarily a community problem. The local business men, through his business organization and individually, should make every effort to meet the situation in his city. The existing unemployment presents a real problem which must have immediate attention."

Road Project Would Aid.

The proposed road bond issue for Wilbarger county would furnish one effective means of meeting this proposition, according to a representative of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce. Such a project, it is argued, would furnish employment for a considerable number of men, and help materially to circulate more money in the community. This plan has found favor from many county citizens.

OMISSION OF DASH CREDITS CHURCH WITH DANCE

By the way! It is not amiss at this time to explain that no spirit of facetiousness, revenge, or just common "orneryness" prompted a Record make-up man to omit a dash between the article in the last issue giving an account of the revival meeting at the Christian church, and one relating the details of a dance at Hill Crest Country Club. With only a subhead between, one story finished with the statement that the visiting minister had preached on "The Sermon On the Mount," and in the next breath there was the assertion that Hill Crest members enjoyed a dance Saturday night.

The hands of The Record clock have a habit of hurrying toward 5 p. m. on press days, and as a consequence there is a bit of flurry connected with making up the paper and running it off the press before that hour arrives. Hence, any omissions of the above nature can be reckoned as mistakes of the head and not the heart.

Swartwood, Mrs. Chandler Caraway, Miss Vera Harrington and Miss Annah Joe Pendleton. Miss Parker won the club prize, and Mrs. Swartwood the guest prize.

FISHERMEN RESCUED AFTER LINER PASSED THEM BY

Captain Albert B. Randall, commander of the United States liner Hudson, has been suspended from duty as the result of his failing to aid three Brooklyn, N. Y. fishermen who were adrift seven miles out on the Atlantic in a disabled motorboat. The men had been drifting seaward more than twelve hours, when the Hudson came up on seeing their signals for assistance. The Hudson, however, failed to stop, sending out a radio telling of the fishermen's plight. More than seven hours after the Hudson had passed them by the three were rescued by the coast liner Nantucket, bound from Boston to Philadelphia. Captain's Randall's defense was that an other steamer was nearer the men and that he had ordered his wireless operator to notify the freighter to go to the assistance of the men and to explain that he had mails aboard and was proceeding. The photo shows the rescued men, who testified at the hearing. Left to right: Albert R. Tuveri, Edward D. Young and William T. Tuveri.

"FOUR HORSEMEN" COMING

Pictures Made From Bancroft's Great War Story Will Be Shown At Local Theatre Tuesday.

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" by Vincente Blasco Ibañez, said by some to be the supreme expression of the Great War, has been put into pictures at a cost of a million dollars. The photoplay will be shown in Vernon for the first time on Tuesday, October 18, at Moss's Theatre. The book now in its one hundred and sixty-sixth edition, has been read throughout the world. It was translated to the screen by June Mathis and the making of the picture was directed by Rex Ingram.

Readers of the novel will recall that the story opens on the Argentine ranch of old MacLachlan, who rules his territories with feudal power. A rioting roistering despot, he is filled with Castilian pride of family and yearns for a male child to carry on his tradition. His two daughters have married ranch employees—the one a German and the other a French. He has an antipathy for his half-German grand-children, but is filled with great pride when a son is born to the Frenchman, Desnoyers. The boy, Julio, is selected heir to the great estate and is brought up as a prince of the realm.

Later the war comes and the consuls are of course on opposite sides of the conflict. Julio finally meets death at the hands of his kinsmen when the two face each other in a trench raid. Through all the story unfold the "Four Horsemen" spoken of by St. John in the Book of the Apocalypse, the grim figures of Conquest, War, Famine and Death.

MORE UNIFORM DISTRIBUTION NEEDED IN MARKETING HOGS

A large majority of southern hogs are marketed during the winter months. During that period prices are generally lowest, largely because of the heavy receipts at all markets. A study of receipts and prices at the leading live-stock markets shows that the average price for live hogs reaches its highest levels during March, April, August, and September, and that the receipts during these months are usually lightest, says the Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture.

An advantage in price, therefore, may usually be gained by marketing hogs during these months. Although it is not always practicable for the farmer to change his production methods to take advantage of this fact, there are many farmers, particularly those in the South, who are easily accessible to packing centers who could well afford to arrange to have their hogs in marketable condition during the month when prices are usually most favorable.

A more uniform distribution of supplies of hogs at southern markets throughout the year would undoubtedly benefit many farmers and at the same time greatly assist in the development of the packing industry in the South.

WANT UNION OF WELFARE EFFORTS

COMMITTEE SUGGESTS PLAN TO ELIMINATE DUPLICATION OF WORK.

A specific recommendation in writing was compiled Wednesday morning by a committee from the various welfare organizations in the county in the interest of formulating a consolidation of agencies here for the purpose of eliminating duplicate work in ministering to the needy. An earlier meeting, held last week, considered the plan for such a union, but nothing definite was done toward its formation. The plan outlined below is formulated to present the proposition concisely not merely to the public but to the various welfare organizations in the county.

"To the Public:

"Charity work now being done in this county results in duplication of effort. The various organizations are often ignorant of what each other is doing. The result is that imposters and dead beats are getting too much help and the worthy are often left to suffer. Another result is that we have too many drives.

"In view of these facts, the following remedy for the situation is suggested:

Want Single Body.

"Organize a county wide body to be known as the Willbarger Welfare Association. Each voting district will have a member of the advisory council. The duties of these councilmen will be to report to the secretary any case needing attention and in advising how to help that case. The association will have a board of directors, composed of one representative from each of the following: County Commissioners' court; United Charities; Red Cross; Medical Association; Pastors' Association; Chamber of Commerce; Retail Merchants Association; Good Fellows; American Legion; Rotary Club; Lions Club; and Salvation Army. This board will elect an executive committee of three. The executive committee will employ a public health nurse and a secretary of the association and shall supervise the disbursement of the funds of the association.

A careful estimate of the amounts raised in this county by all the various agencies for charitable work during the past twelve months shows that a total of about $10,000 was secured. With a consolidation of agencies, duplication of efforts will be done away with, the imposters will be put an end to, the needy will be taken care of, and the public health nurse can be kept affiliated with the Red Cross. The estimated cost of this plan is $5,000 a year.

Haulk Hill

Haulk Hill, Oct. 13.—(By special correspondence.)—Cotton in this community is being gathered fast. If it stays dry there would be much to gather in November.

Mrs. A. E. Morgan of Vernon is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Turner of Odell.

The singing at Mrs. Ida Turner's Sunday night was well attended by a large crowd of young folks and several old people. Every body seemed to enjoy the singing.

S. B. Sherrill has 11 acres of cotton that he has picked 7 bales off of and he says he believes he will get 4 or 5 more. That is extra good for this year.

Corbett Musser and Cecil Smith from Whitewright, Texas are picking cotton for J. O. Morgan. Mr. Musser is a cousin of Mr. Morgan.

T. H. Green and family went to the singing Sunday night at Mrs. Ida Turner's.

George T. Anschutz

Regardless of the fact that he is nearly eighty years a resident on this old terra firma, George T. Anschutz, of Washington Court House, Ohio, is still an enthusiastic bicycle rider and issues a challenge to race any man of his age in America, barring none. He was born in Baltimore, Md., and recalls seeing troops on their way to the Mexican war. He is as fit as a fiddle, uses his bicycle every day and has been using the same wheel for twenty years. "I haven't an ache, pain, debt or anxiety," is the way Anschutz expresses his wonderful vitality and personality.

Gay R. Jones left Tuesday for Dallas to attend the Fair.

CITY MARSHAL NOT APPOINTED COLONEL WOODS TO FORM UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Commissioners Unable Tuesday To Agree On Head of Local Police Force.

City Commissioners were unable to agree on a choice of city marshal at their meeting Tuesday afternoon, and as a consequence, W. W. Gilchrist will continue serving in that capacity until the vacancy is filled. R. H. Bratton, former city marshal, resigned over a week ago.

Ballots taken by the city fathers resulted first two to two vote consistently. After discussing the proposition further, additional ballots would be taken with the usual two favoring Gilbert and two against.

J. H. Hartsfield was appointed to serve as night policeman.

"Your medicine is certainly the greatest I ever saw. I never thought such stuff could be in a human being. I am feeling ten years younger since taking the course of May's Wonderful Remedy, and am feeling everybody it is the champion house cleaner. My blood is clean and my skin is all gone and I can eat anything. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and alters the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Accommodation---and What It Means

"ACCOMMODATION" is an empty phrase until put into actual practice. A bank's many facilities are as naught until actually made use of.

THAT IS WHY we offer to the growing business man a banking service that will help him grow still bigger. It may be in our checking department, or in all departments. But, no matter where, the hearty, complete accommodation of this bank is yours always.

WE BELIEVE in a bank offering accommodation, rather than waiting to be asked for it. That is why so many young business men, and older concerns too, rightly regard this as THEIR bank.

Ask us to explain why this is YOUR Logical Bank.

Three Things That Save You Money on Fall Clothing

1. The General Price Reduction of 34 Per cent.
2. HART SCHAFFNER & MARX QUALITY.
3. Our Very Narrow Margin of Profit.

Clothing prices reported by the Department of Labor to be 34 per cent less than they were one year ago. That's worth while.

The Fine quality that HART SCHAFFNER & MARX puts into these clothes saves for you because it lasts longer and because we want to get prices lower yet, we're selling on as small a margin of profit as we can get by on.
